

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

STATE OF OHIO, OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF SCHOOLS,
Columbus, June 7, 1858.

Section 54 of the general school law makes it the duty of the School Commissioner to "cause as many copies of the laws relating to schools and teachers' institutes, with an appendix of appropriate forms and instructions for carrying into execution all such laws, to be printed in a separate volume, and distributed to each county with the laws, journals and other documents for the use of the school officers therein, as often after the first distribution as any change in said laws may be made of sufficient importance, in the opinion of the Commissioner, to require a republication and distribution thereof."

Strict obedience to the requirements of this section would have led to the publication of a new edition of school laws, forms, &c., one year ago, as numerous and important amendments had then been enacted. Many school officers throughout the state requested that the work should not be delayed, as much inconvenience was experienced from its want. But in view of the probability that additional amendments would be enacted by the succeeding Legislature, and unwilling that the state should be subjected to the expense of publishing an edition which might within six months become obsolete, I judged it prudent to defer the publication until the present season. As but a single section of the law was amended during the recent session of the Legislature, and as there was manifested a general indisposition to make further changes, there is a strong probability that the present school laws of the state will remain for years without material alteration.

The former edition was published under the supervision of the Hon. William Trevitt, Secretary of State, in 1853. It embraced only the general school law, and forms for the use of school officers. The present edition comprises,

1st. The act to provide for the reorganization, supervision and maintenance of common schools, passed March 14, 1853.

Sup. W. C. Russell: May 1858

- 2d. The Akron school law, with its various amendments.
- 3d. The act for the better regulation of the public schools in cities, towns, &c., passed February 21, 1849.
- 4th. The several enactments concerning teachers' institutes.
- 5th. School lands, and irreducible school funds.
- 6th. Forms.
- 7th. A selection of the published opinions of the late, and the present Commissioner, relative to the interpretation of school laws.

It will be observed that the laws are published in the form in which they now exist. Amended sections are indicated by reference to explanatory notes.

For the statement respecting the irreducible school funds, I acknowledge indebtedness to the late Commissioner, the Hon. H. H. Barney.

To prepare suitable forms for conducting proceedings under our school laws, much care and labor have been expended; and it is believed that decided improvement has been made upon those heretofore in use. In the preparation of these forms, a large number of the Auditors of Counties have been consulted. The form for teachers' register was, at my request, furnished by A. J. Dildine, Esq., Auditor of Fairfield county.

Of the numerous published opinions of my predecessor, not a few have become inapplicable, by reason of changes in the school law, enacted since their publication. Of the remainder, I have selected nearly forty, which, together with twenty of my own, are inserted in this volume. It is believed that they will prove convenient to school officers throughout the State; and it is hoped that they will obviate the necessity of much of the correspondence which has hitherto been required of this department.

ANSON SMYTH,
State School Commissioner.

It shall also be the duty of the board to estimate such additional amount as they may think necessary, not exceeding two mills on the dollar of the taxable property of the township, for the exclusive purpose of sustaining teachers in the central or high schools, or for the purpose of prolonging, after the state funds have been exhausted, the terms of the several sub-districts or primary schools in the township, or for both purposes, as the board may adjudge best; these several amounts of money so estimated or decided upon, the board shall make known by certificate in writing, on or before the first Monday in June in such year, including any tax which may have been voted by a special meeting of electors, as provided in the preceding section, to the auditor of the proper county, who shall thereupon assess the entire amount of such estimates on all the taxable property of the township not included in any city or incorporated village, or territory annexed thereto forming any special district, to be entered by said auditor on the tax duplicate of the county, and collected by the county treasurer

SEC. 2. In case there has been no vote taken for the sale of any such lands, the trustees of any original surveyed township, to which such lands may belong, shall, at least thirty days prior to taking of any such vote, cause not less than eight notices to be posted up in as many of the most public places of such township, notifying the legal voters resident

SEC. 3. The trustees of the township shall preside at the taking of such ballots, and shall appoint two clerks, who shall keep two poll books, containing the names of the voters and the result of the ballot, which poll books shall be signed by the trustees and clerks; and, in case such ballot shall result in favor of a sale, the trustees shall, within ten days after such election, deposit one of said poll books with the auditor of the county, within which such lands (or the greater portion thereof,) may be situated, with a copy of the notice given, and the affidavit of one or more of the trustees, stating the manner of giving said notices, and the time and place of putting up the same; which notices, affidavit, and poll book, shall be, by said auditor, copied into a book for that purpose to be provided; and when so recorded, such record shall be proof of the facts therein stated.

Trustees to petition court of common pleas.

SEC. 4. When such record has been made, the trustees of such township to which said lands belong, shall file a petition in the court of common pleas of the county within which said lands (or the greater portion of them) may be situate, setting forth the giving of said notice, the taking of said ballot, the result of the same, the filing and recording of the aforesaid papers in the office of the auditor of the proper county, and asking the court to appoint three disinterested freeholders, not resident of the township in which the land may be situated, to divide and value the same in money.

Court to appoint appraisers.

SEC. 5. If such court shall be satisfied that the statements made in the petition are true, the court shall appoint three persons to divide and appraise the same, according to the prayer of such petition; and said appraisers, after being first duly sworn before some officer authorized to administer oaths, and taking to their aid, if they think necessary, the county surveyor, shall proceed to divide said lands into such parcels or tracts as, in their opinion, will be best for the sale thereof, and return in writing such divisions, suitably numbered and described, to the said court, with a just valuation of each separate division, in money.

SEC. 6. The court, on such return being made, and having been by said court examined, and found in all things regular, just and fair, shall certify the same, and order the same to be entered of record, together with the petition, and all the proceedings therein had; a copy of which the trustees shall cause to be filed in the office of the auditor of the proper county, who shall copy the same into a book containing the notice, affidavit, and poll book aforesaid, and immediately following the same.

SEC. 8. In case said lands, or any part thereof, shall not ~~same~~ be sold as aforesaid, the auditor may continue to offer the same on the application, in writing, of the trustees of the township to which said lands may belong, at any future time or times, until they shall be sold, having first given the like notices herein provided, to be given on the first sale thereof: provided, that no sale shall be had on any valuation made more than two years prior to the day of the sale.

ment.

SEC. 9. The court of common pleas aforesaid is hereby required, on the petition of the trustees aforesaid, setting forth the former appraisement, and the subsequent proceedings thereto, and that two years have elapsed, and the land remaining unsold, to direct a new valuation of the same to be made in the manner hereinbefore directed, unless said court, on testimony, shall be satisfied that the former appraisement is a just and fair valuation of said lands; in that case, the court shall make an entry of the fact, which entry shall be certified to, and recorded by the auditor, in manner aforesaid, and shall have the same effect as a new appraisement.

provisions of the second section of this act; and if, at such election, a majority of the electors shall vote to such surrender, then, and not otherwise, said trustees shall consent to the surrender, in manner and form as herein provided.

SEC. 11. Any such lessee, on producing to the auditor of ^{Same subject.} the proper county, within one year after the making of the same, a certified copy of such petition and appraisement, and confirmation, shall be permitted, by endorsement thereon, attested by the auditor, to release to the state of Ohio all his interest, title, and claim, in and to such lease, for the benefit of the township to which the same may belong; which certified copy of said record and said release, shall be recorded in a book for that purpose to be provided.

SEC. 12. The purchaser of any such lands, at any auditor's sale, or the lessee of any such land held under such lease, on executing his release, as aforesaid, shall each, forthwith, pay to the treasurer of the county one-twelfth of the purchase money in the first case, and one-twelfth of the valuation in the second, and take the treasurer's receipt therefor; and the auditor, on receiving the treasurer's receipt for said first installment, shall give to said purchaser or lessee a certificate, containing the name of the purchaser or lessee, a description of the premises, the number, amount, and time of payment of the subsequent installments, and that said purchaser or lessee, their heirs or assigns, on the punctual payment of the sums still due, with annual interest up to the time of payment, shall be entitled to receive a final certificate from such auditor: provided, that such lessee shall produce to the auditor the certificate of the proper officer, that all rents due on such premises have been paid up to the time of surrendering said lease.

SEC. 13. Any person wishing to pay any money under the ^{Same subject.} provisions of this act, in part or full payment of any such lands, shall first obtain the certificate of the auditor, of the amount due, or to be paid; and on the presentation of the same, the treasurer is authorized to receive the amount therein specified, and shall give to the person paying the same a cer-paid into the state treasury, it shall be applied for the same uses as the lands are subject to.

Fees.

SEC. 20. The fees for services under this act shall be as follows: The court shall tax such fees on any petition filed in the same, as are allowed for similar services on proceedings in chancery. The county auditor to be allowed one dollar and fifty cents on each sale made by him; for each certificate, fifty cents; for each receipt, six cents, to be paid by the purchaser, and the same fees for recording as is allowed to county recorders, to be paid out of the first moneys paid in as interest or rents, on such sale or surrender. All printers' fees for advertising, shall be paid out of the county treasury, on the order of the auditor, and refunded out of the first moneys received on such sale, as interest or rents. The cost in court shall, in case of a petition by the trustees, be paid out of the county treasury, on the order of the county auditor, and refunded out of the first moneys received from the sale, as interest or rents; in case of a lessee being petitioner, all costs shall be paid by him.

SCHOOL FUNDS.

An act to establish a fund for the support of common schools.

[Passed March 2, 1831. Took effect June 1, 1831. XXIX vol. Stat. 423.]

Fund established, etc.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That there is hereby constituted and established a fund, to be designated by the name of "the common school fund;" the income of which shall be appropriated to the support of common schools in the state of Ohio, in such manner as shall be pointed out by law; of which fund the auditor of state shall be the superintendent, until otherwise directed by law.

Auditor of state the superintendent.

And how to keep account of funds from sale of school lands.

Irreducible.

SEC. 2. That whenever, and so often, as any moneys shall be paid into the state treasury, arising from the sale of any lands which heretofore have been, or hereafter may be, appropriated by congress, for the use or support of schools in any original surveyed township, or other district of country, in this state, the auditor of state shall forthwith open an account, in a book or books to be provided for that purpose, and shall pass the said moneys to the credit of such township, or other district of country; which said money shall constitute an irreducible fund, the proceeds accruing from which shall be paid over and appropriated, in the manner which shall be pointed out by law, for the support of common schools within the township, or other district of country, to and for no other use or purpose whatever.

SEC. 3. That all moneys paid into the state treasury as aforesaid, shall bear an annual interest of six per centum; which interest shall be cast from the time of the payment of any principal sum, up to the first day of January, next succeeding such payment, and on the first day of January, annually, thereafter; and where the same has not been done, the auditor of state shall, in a book or books to be provided for that purpose, open an interest account with every township, or other district of country, to which a credit in the irreducible fund aforesaid shall have been passed; and he shall, in such book or books, keep accurate accounts of the accrual and disbursement of all interest accruing from such fund, so as aforesaid belonging to any township or district of country; and the faith of the state of Ohio is hereby pledged for the annual payment of the interest aforesaid, to the person who, and in the manner which, shall be pointed out by law; which said interest shall be appropriated and expended for the support and maintenance of common schools within the township, or other district of country, entitled as aforesaid to the same.

SEC. 4. That for the payment of any interest that shall have accrued, and be payable to and for any township, or other district of country as aforesaid, the county auditor of the proper county shall, annually, on or after the first day of January, draw an order on the treasurer of state, in favor of the treasurer of the proper county, for the interest which shall be payable in such county; and upon such order being presented to the auditor of state, he shall thereupon certify an abstract of the amount of interest payable to each township, or other district of country, in such county; and thereupon, on presentation of said order, the treasurer of state shall pay the amount of interest appearing by said abstract to be due; and the said county treasurer, or the person presenting said

And in all cases in which a county line shall divide any original surveyed township, or fractional part thereof, the interest, payable in such township, shall be received and disbursed in manner aforesaid, by the treasurer of the county wherein the greatest quantity of land belonging to such township shall be situate; but if it be uncertain in which county the greatest quantity of land in such township be situate, then the said interest shall be received and disbursed by the treasurer of the oldest county in which any part of such township shall be situate.

Donations and bequests to vest in common school funds, etc. SEC. 5. That whenever any donation or devise shall be made, by gift, grant, last will and testament, or in any other manner whatever, of any estate, either real, personal, or mixed, to the state of Ohio, or to any person, or otherwise, in trust for the said common school fund, by any individual, body politic or corporate, the same shall be vested in said common school fund; and whenever the moneys arising from such gift, grant, or devise, shall be paid into the state treasury, the proper accounts thereof shall be kept, and the interest accruing therefrom shall be appropriated according to the intent and design of such donor, grantor, or devisor.

And the state of Ohio is State pledged for the interest. hereby pledged to pay the interest, annually, on any and all sums of money which shall have been, or may hereafter be, paid into such treasury, from the passage of this act, or the receipt of such money into the treasury aforesaid; and the interest arising as aforesaid, shall be funded annually, until the first day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and thirty-five; after which time the said interest shall be annually distributed to the several counties in this state, in proportion to the number of white male inhabitants above the age of twenty-one years, as by law shall be ascertained, for the apportionment of representatives; and the proportion of interest, due to each and every such county, shall be distributed for the support of common schools, in the respective counties, in the manner prescribed in the act to provide for the support and better regulation of common schools.

Interest funded until 1835.

How distributed after-

[The balance of the chapter is probably superseded by the act organizing the sinking fund.) The provisions are retained in Swan's Revised Statutes.

It is also questionable whether the state common school fund, organized in section 6, is in existence. If so, the act of March 6, 1844, adds to it "all moneys arising from licenses to peddlers, all moneys arising from auction duties, or licenses to auctioneers, except in the county of Hamilton; and all fines and penalties collected under the laws relating to each of said funds;" but the same act limits the fund, however derived, to $200,000.

The doubt grows out of the language of section 63 of the general school act (chapter I, ante), namely: "The state common school fund shall hereafter consist of such sum as will be produced by the annual levy and assessment of one mill and one-half mill on the grand list of taxable property," etc. The late revisors, Swan and Curwen, regard those provisions as yet in force, and the repeal is exclusively by implication. The following act stands on the same footing:*

* See Swan's Revised Statutes, 853-4.

An act to increase the general fund for the support of common schools, established by the sixth section of the act to establish a fund for the support of common schools, passed March 2, 1851, by the appropriation of the proceeds of the swamp lands to that fund.

Proceeds of sales of swamp lands to be added to the common school fund.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That the net proceeds which may hereafter be paid into the state treasury, from the sales of swamp lands granted to the state of Ohio, by act of congress, passed September 28th, 1850, be, and the same is hereby appropriated to the general fund for the support of common schools; and the state of Ohio is hereby pledged to pay the interest, annually, on any and all sums of money which may be paid into the state treasury, from the sales of said lands, from the receipt of such money into the treasury aforesaid; and the interest arising as aforesaid, shall be funded annually, until the first day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-five; after which time the said interest shall be annually distributed to the several counties in this state, in proportion to the number of white male inhabitants above the age of twenty-one, as by law shall be ascertained, for the apportionment of representatives; and the proportion of interest due to each and every such county, shall be distributed for the support of common schools in the respective counties, in the manner prescribed in the "act to provide for the support and better regulation of common schools."

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Speaker of the Senate.

THE IRREDUCIBLE OR SPECIAL SCHOOL FUNDS.

These now constitute a capital of $2,044,056,* the proceeds of specific appropriations of lands by congress for school purposes, upon which the state treasury pays an annual interest of six per cent. This income is not distributed by a uniform rule, however. Those territorial divisions of the state, known as the Virginia Military District, United States Military District, and Connecticut Western Reserve, are each entitled to receive the income of the school fund so designated, in proportion to the whole number of youth therein, while in the remainder of the state, the rent of section sixteen, or the interest arising from the proceeds of its sale, is paid exclusively to the inhabitants of the original surveyed townships. The whole number of youth of school age in the Virginia Military District, for instance, constitutes the divisor of the entire income, thus affording an obvious method of distribution to the counties; while a similar calculation must attend the apportionment to the respective townships of the proceeds of section sixteen. Besides the inconvenience from this state of things, there is produced a great inequality of benefit. One township may receive a large sum—their section of land having been fortunately located or judiciously sold—while an adjacent township receives a mere pittance. Still, it is doubtful whether there is any remedy for this inequality. In Indiana, an attempt was recently made to consolidate these township funds, distributing their income equally throughout the state; but the supreme court of the state decided that such a measure was a violation of the trust created by the tenure of these lands from congress, or (to reverse the injunction of the Ohio constitution) that “the income arising therefrom,” was not “faithfully applied to the specific objects of the original grants or appropriations.”

The ground upon which the diversity in the application of these funds rests, will more fully appear by a brief synopsis of the original grants or appropriations; for, at the first glance, it excites surprise that such an incongruity should be suffered to continue in the condition of our school funds.

The ordinance of the continental congress which first provided for the disposition of lands northwest of the river Ohio, was passed May 20th, 1785, and resulted in the survey of the seven ranges, which are bounded said land shall be surveyed in townships of six miles square, and shall, if the lands be surveyed in a different manner, be designated by lots." The second section declared "that the several appropriations for schools made by the preceding section," were "in conformity to, and in consideration of, the conditions agreed on by the state of Ohio, by the ordinance of the convention of the said state, bearing date the 29th day of November, 1802."

Whatever may be the construction of the ordinance of 1785, of the subsequent contracts with the Ohio Company and John Cleves Symmes, and of the seventh section of the act of congress of April 30, 1802, there seems to have been no question as to the meaning of the Ohio convention and of congress, in regard to the school lands appropriated for the United States Military District, the Virginia Military District, and the Connecticut Western Reserve. But if the proceeds of these grants can be properly treated as a single fund, the income of which may be distributed equally to the youth of school age in the respective districts, why may not the grant of one thirty-sixth of the lands to which the Indian title was unextinguished in 1802, be disposed of in the same manner? That portion of the state which might be denominated the Greenville Treaty District, from the well-known boundary which then separated the Indian Territory from the lands ceded in 1795 to the United States, can readily be identified on any map of the state, and is recognized by the fourth clause of the first section of the act of congress, passed in compliance with the resolution of the Ohio Constitutional Convention, to be as distinctly a separate district, for the purpose of a grant of school lands, as the Virginia Military or other special districts. If the funds arising from the donations to the latter can be legally consolidated, and their incomes distributed per capita, no good reason appears why all the counties between the United States Military District and the Western Reserve, and north-west of the old Greenville line—including Wayne, part of Holmes, Ashland, Richland, part of Morrow, Marion, Hardin, Union, Logan, Shelby, Mercer, Crawford, Seneca, Sandusky, Ottawa (except one township in Western Reserve), Lucas, Wood, Hancock, Auglaize (except part of one township in Virginia Military District), Allen, Putnam, Henry, Fulton, Williams, Defiance, Paulding and Van Wert counties—should not be placed on an equal footing as to the enjoyment of a school fund arising from the sale or lease of section sixteen; although, if the rest of the state, whose donations are of an older date, are permitted to receive these proceeds by the rule of township distribution, it may be inexpedient to make any change in the existing system. These particulars are not offered as the foundation of any recommendation to that effect. The subject is too much environed by difficulties, and these have been too fully considered by the general assembly, to warrant any change, unless upon greater consideration than the undersigned has been able to give to the subject.

By act of March 2, 1807, congress appropriated eighteen quarter townships and three sections, to be selected by lot from lands lying between the United States Military Tract and the Western Reserve, for the use of schools in the Virginia Military Reservation—thus removing a restriction contained in the act of 1803, which confined their selection to the Virginia Military District. In return the State of Ohio released to the United States the thirty-sixth part of the tract first designated, accepting the above grant in lieu thereof. It may be well to add that the Virginia Military District (or the tract between the Scioto and Little Miami, reserved by Virginia from her cession of the territory north-west of the Ohio river for the satisfaction of land bounties issued to her troops upon Continental establishment), may be traced upon a township map of Ohio as follows: It includes the whole of Adams, Brown, Clermont, Clinton, Fayette, Highland, Madison and Union counties; half of Hardin, or Taylorsville, Hale and Dudley townships, and a large portion of Roundhead; part of a single township (Goshen) in Auglaize; one half of Logan, or Rush Creek, Bokengehelas Creek, Jefferson, Perry, Zane, and Goshen townships, with large fractions of McArthur, Monroe, and Lake, and a smaller portion of Stokes; one quarter of Champaign, or Wayne, Rush and Goshen townships, with a large part of Union, and a less fraction of Salem; the north-east and south-east extremities of Clark, being the eastern portions of Pleasant and Harmony and the southern portions of Madison and Greene townships; three-fourths of Greene, or all of the county except Bath and Beaver's Creek townships, and those portions of Miami, Xenia and Miami which lie west of the Little Miami river; two-fifths of Warren, or Hamilton, Salem, Washington, and part of Wayne townships; a single township (Anderson) at the south-east angle of Hamilton; two-fifths of Scioto, viz: Nile, Washington, Union, Brush Creek and Morgan] townships; three-fifths of Pike, viz: Camp Creek, Sunfish, Mifflin, Perry, Pebble, Benton, Peepee, and the west half of Jackson townships; two-thirds of Ross, viz: Franklin, Huntington, Paxton, Scioto, Twin, Paint, Buckskin, Concord, Union and Deerfield townships; two-thirds of Pickaway, viz: Wayne, Deer Creek, Perry, Jackson, Monroe, Muhlenberg, Darby and Scioto; seven of the nineteen townships of Franklin, viz: Jackson, Pleasant, Prairie, Franklin, Norwich, Brown, and Washington; a narrow belt along the west line of Delaware, to-wit: the townships of Thompson and Scioto, and a fraction of Concord: and finally, the two south-western townships of Marion, viz: Green Camp and Bowling Green—to the place of beginning "in a large wet prairie, or swamp," whence flow, in opposite directions, the Scioto and Great Miami towards the Gulf of Mexico, and the Auglaize northwardly to its junction with the Maumee or Miami of Lake Erie. The sale of the school lands allotted to the inhabitants of the Virginia Military District, occurred in pursuance of acts passed by the General Assembly in 1827 and 1828.

The United States Military District, so frequently mentioned in the present connection, was appropriated by an act of Congress, in 1796, to satisfy the land bounties granted by the Continental Congress to the officers and soldiers of the revolution. It was bounded as follows: "beginning at the north-west corner of the original seven ranges of townships and running thence fifty miles due south along the western boundaries of the said range; thence due west with (to?) the main branch of the Scioto river; thence up the main branch of the said river to the place where the Indian boundary line crosses the same; thence along the said boundary line to the Tuscarawas branch of the Muskingum river at the crossing place above Fort Laurens; thence up said river to a point where a line run due west from the place of beginning will intersect the said river; thence along the said line to the beginning." The language here quoted is from the act of June 1, 1796, and is geographically inaccurate, for when the old Greenville line (the Indian boundary mentioned) reaches the site of Fort Laurens (near the villages of Calcutta, on the southern border of Stark, and of Bolivar, in Tuscarawas counties) there is no need of ascending the Muskingum to reach a point due west from the place of beginning. A few miles from the site of Fort Laurens, directly east connects with the north-east corner of the seventh range of townships. The act further directed this tract to be surveyed into townships of five miles square; and these were afterward surveyed into quarter townships of two and a half miles square, containing 4,000 acres each. Consequently the grant to the United States Military District of eighteen of these quarter townships, contained in the act of 1808, amounted to 72,000 acres, or about one thirty-fourth of the whole extent of the District. The appropriation to the Connecticut Reserve by the same act, of fourteen quarter townships, or 56,000 acres, was, of course, inadequate; while the subsequent allotment of eighteen quarter townships, and three sections within this tract for the benefit of the Virginia Military District may have amounted, together with other locations made between the Scioto and the Little Miami, from 1803 to 1807, to the proportion of one thirty-sixth of the lands in the latter tract.

The school lands originally granted to the United States Military District, remained under lease until 1827-8, when the inhabitants were authorized to vote their consent to sell them, which was done, and their proceeds now constitute a portion of the irreducible fund. The district entitled to a uniform division of their yearly income may thus be designated on the map of Ohio: The whole of Coshocton county, and the following fractions, greater or less, of the adjacent counties; of Tuscarawas, all except most of Warren and Union, and smaller portions of Will and Rush townships; of Guernsey, all except Londonderry and Oxford on the eastern, and Spencer on the southern border; of Noble, only Sections 19, 20, 21 and 22 in township one, range one west of the seven ranges; of Muskingum, whatever lies north of the latitude of Zanesville, viz: Union, Perry, Washington, Falls, Hopewell, Highland, Salem, Muskingum, Licking, Monroe, Adams, Madison, Jefferson and Jackson: of Holmes, all but Washington and Ripley, and portions of Prairie, Salt Creek, Paint, Knox and Monroe; of Licking, all but Etna and Bowling Green, and parts of Union and Licking, which constitute its southern border; of Knox, all but a narrow wedge extending from west to east along the northern line of Middleberry and Berlin; about half of Morrow, viz: Chester Bloomfield, Harmony, Bennington, Pern, Lincoln, Westfield and part of Franklin townships; most of Delaware, all except the narrow belt west of the Scioto; and of Franklin, the north-eastern townships of Jefferson, Mifflin, Clinton, Plain, Blendon, Sharon and Perry.

The donation of 56,000 acres for the use of Schools on the Western Reserve, was probably one thirty-sixth of the land east of the Cuyahoga river; but when, in 1805, the Indian title was extinguished by the treaty of "Fort Industry, on the Miami of the Lake," east of the meridian line drawn from Lake Erie along the western limit of the Connecticut Reserve, and thence south to the Greenville line, it became the duty of Congress to furnish a due proportion of School Land for the remainder of the Reserve—which was estimated by a memorial of the Ohio Legislature, dated January 21, 1827, to be 43,000 acres. It was not, however, until June 19, 1834, that an act of Congress was passed, directing the President of the United States to reserve from sale public lands in Ohio sufficient, in addition to the grant of 1803, to constitute one thirty-sixth of the area of the Western Reserve for the use of schools. Under this act it was ascertained that the State of Ohio became entitled to 37,758 acres, most of which was located in the counties of Defiance, Henry, Williams, Paulding, Van Wert and Putnam; in 1848 the people of the Western Reserve, by a vote authorized by the General Assembly, decided in favor of their sale; in 1850 provision was made for their appraisement and sale, and the lands in question are now generally disposed of. An income of six per cent, upon their net proceeds, is paid to the counties of Ashtabula, Trumbull, Lake, Geauga, Portage, Cuyahoga, Medina, Lorain, Huron and Erie; to ten townships of Mahoning, viz: Berlin, Ellsworth, Canfield, Boardman, Poland, Milton, Jackson, Austintown, Youngstown and Coitville; to all of Summit, except Franklin and Greene townships; to three townships of Ashland, viz: Ruggles, Troy and Sullivan; and the eastern extremity of Ottawa, consisting of Danbury township, and a portion of the Bass Islands in Lake Erie.

The Moravian School Fund is usually mentioned in financial and school reports. Congress, at an early day, granted three tracts of four thousand acres each to the Society of United Brethren, for propagating the gospel among the heathen, in trust for the Christian Indians of the Muskingum. These tracts included the Missionary Stations of Schcenbrum, Guadenhutten and Salem in Tuscarawas county, and were re-conveyed in 1824 to the United States, in consideration of certain provisions for the benefit of the society and the remnant of Indians then surviving. By an act of congress, passed the same year, the secretary of the treasury was allowed to set apart from the sale of these lands, one lot not exceeding one thirty-sixth part of each tract, the title being vested in the Legislature of Ohio in trust for the use of schools, in the same manner that other lands have been granted for that purpose.

By a communication from the auditor of state, it appears that the total amount of payments into the state treasury, on the 15th November, 1854, constituting the school trust fund, or the bulk of the "irreducible debt of Ohio," was as follows:

Virginia Military School Fund	$150,150	85	7

Section Sixteen	1,527,940	98	1

As before stated, the state receives these funds as a perpetual loan, and pays an annual interest of six per cent. thereon for distribution in the localities entitled to the proceeds.

A SYNOPSIS OF OTHER SCHOOL REVENUES—FINES, SWAMP LANDS, ETC.

A brief synopsis of legislative provisions, with the dates of their passage annexed, will indicate those pecuniary penalties, which, by the neglect of school officers, are frequently diverted from the use of schools; and which, if an account was rendered in the different counties and townships of the state, might afford a considerable fund of arrearages.

The following is a list of the fines, which the different acts, whose dates are given, direct to be paid into the county treasuries for the use of schools:

1. One dollar for the importation or sale of salt, without legal inspection at Cincinnati, Portsmouth, or Cleveland—February 3, 1840.
2. Not exceeding five hundred dollars for procuring abortion—February 27, 1834.
3. One hundred dollars by county treasurer for failing to make annual settlement with state treasurer—January 3, 1843.
4. Not exceeding one hundred dollars for wantonly or maliciously opening inclosures—February 28, 1846.
5. Five dollars for every hundred pounds of fish, except shad, mackerel or herring, sold without inspection—March 9, 1831.
6. Five to fifty dollars for failing to bury or burn the offal of fish, taken in the waters of this State, to the amount of one or more barrels—March 9, 1831.
7. Five hundred dollars for keeping gambling instruments, aiding in gambling or becoming a common gambler—January 17, 1846.
8. Not exceeding fifty dollars by county inspectors for receiving more than their prescribed fees or buying condemned articles—March 9, 1821.
9. Not exceeding ten dollars for obstructing the navigation of the Muskingum river—March 1, 1834.
10. Not exceeding ten thousand dollars by any officer or corporation, who is in contempt for disregarding orders of court in quo warranto procedure—March 17, 1838.
11. Fifty cents by manufacturers of salt for each barrel not drained and packed according to law—April 30, 1852.
12. One-half of amount received by county auditors (the other half applied to agricultural fund by act of February 8, 1847) for licenses of “any traveling show”—(further defined as “any natural or artificial curiosity or exhibition of horsemanship in a circus or otherwise, for any price, gain or reward”)—at not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars; also, one-half of fines of one hundred dollars for exhibiting without such license—auditor to apportion the above proceeds to the respective school districts (now the townships and special districts) according to the number of youth therein—February 28, 1831, amended by act of February 8, 1847.
13. The amount of any debt or demand upon which any bank shall have taken illegal interest, less the per centage of the prosecuting attorney, provided the debtor has not commenced proceedings within six months from the transaction—March 19, 1850.

The fines payable to township treasurers for the use of schools are as follows:

1. Five to fifty dollars for unauthorized traffic near camp meetings—March 26, 1841.
2. Ten dollars for allowing Canada thistles to mature on defendant's land, and twenty dollars for knowingly vending any grass or other seed in which there is any seed of the Canada thistle—March 6, 1844.
3. Divers penalties under the act to restrain immoral practices, passed February 17, 1834, viz: one to five dollars for Sabbath breaking; five dollars for selling spirituous liquors on Sunday; not exceeding twenty dollars for disturbing religious meetings; twenty-five cents to one dollar for each offense, "if any person of the age of fourteen years or upward shall profanely curse or damn, or profanely swear by the name of God, Jesus Christ, or the Holy Ghost;" fifty cents to five dollars for exciting disturbance at a public meeting; fifty cents to five dollars for playing bullets, running horses, or shooting at a target in towns or villages; ten to one hundred dollars by any keeper of a public house or retailer of spirituous liquors who is connected with a nine pin alley; ten dollars "if any person or persons shall exhibit any puppet show, wire dancing or tumbling, jugglery or sleight-of-hand within this state, and shall ask and receive any money or other property for exhibiting the same;" ten dollars for defacing any advertisement set up by authority of law; not exceeding one hundred dollars for bull or bear baiting and other torture of animals; not exceeding twenty dollars for any agency in "the game commonly called cock fighting;" one to five dollars "if two or more persons shall run a match horse race or races in any public road in common use for the purpose of trying the speed of their horses;" and if any justice of the peace fail to pay over the above fines for immoral practices he shall forfeit double amounts.
4. Five to fifty dollars for firing cannon or exploding more than five ounces avoirdupois of gunpowder on public streets or highways, except in certain cases—February 10, 1845.
5. One dollar for each muskrat killed between May 1 and October 15, "provided that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent any person from destroying muskrats where the same shall be injurious to works of a public or private nature"—"An act to protect the fur trade," passed January 18, 1830.
6. Fifty dollars for unlicensed peddling—February 7, 1848.
7. Five to fifty dollars by manufacturers who compel any women or children under eighteen years of age, or permit any child under fourteen years, to labor more than ten hours in any one day—March 19, 1852. 8. Twenty-five cents to one dollar by owner of “habitually breachy or unruly animals,” after due notice by township trustees, payable to “the treasury of the school district in which defendant resides” (now the township treasury)—January 17, 1840. 9. Five to twenty-five dollars by any tavern keeper, grocery keeper, or other person, for harboring any intoxicated Indian or Indians, “for the use of the school district”—March 20, 1840.

By act of March 14, 1853, personal property escheated to the state is appropriated to common schools.

In respect to the swamp lands granted by the general government to the western states, by the act of September 28, 1850, the allotment to Ohio was only $25,720\frac{7}{16}$ acres, while Indiana receives $1,286,827\frac{14}{16}$ acres. This contrast proves the extent to which Ohio lands are susceptible of cultivation, or that the designation of “swamp lands” has not been applied with much precision, or governed by an uniform rule.

The legislation by the state of Ohio assumes that these lands are in a condition unsuitable for tillage and deleterious to health, and the acts of March 2, 1853, and April 25, 1854, offer inducements for promptly reclaiming them. The auditors of the counties in which they are situated, are required to advertise for proposals to drain and reclaim such lands, and award the contract of drainage and reclamation to the lowest responsible bidder. A previous section provides for the appraisement of the land before they have been drained and reclaimed, and the only means set apart by the act to pay for such drainage consists of “said lands lying in said county at the appraised value thereof.” The first eight sections of the act of 1853 contemplate that, after the lands are reclaimed, they may be taken at the appraised value before reclamation to the amount of the contractor’s bid; and then section 9 adds “that if after the said swamp or overflowed lands of this state, lying within any county, be drained or reclaimed as herein provided, there shall remain any of the said lands undisposed of, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of such county to appraise the same, and make returns of such appraisal as aforesaid; upon the filing of such returns in his office, the said county auditor is hereby authorized to sell the said lands at the appraised value thereof to any applicant therefor, who will make an oath or affirmation that it is his intention to improve the same and make the same a permanent residence, or that the same adjoin to and are necessary to the proper improvement of lands then owned and improved by such applicant, which said oath or affirmation the said county auditor is hereby authorized to administer; and in all cases of sales, as prescribed in this section, the said county auditor shall receipt to the purchaser for the amount of money received, and describe therein the lands sold, which said receipt, upon presentation and delivery to the governor, shall entitle the purchaser to a patent for such land; provided, that such of said swamp or overflowed lands as are incapable of being drained or reclaimed, may be sold without the oath or affirmation hereinbefore required.

Two years is the period fixed for the performance of these contracts of drainage, and when companies have been formed for the purpose, the work done by them may be estimated in money, and lands conveyed at the appraised value. Section 10 finally provides "that all moneys received by said county auditor upon all sales as aforesaid, shall be paid into the county treasury of the county in which the lands sold are situated, to reimburse the county for the expenditures of draining and reclaiming said swamp or overflowed lands, and the residue, if any there be, shall be paid by said county treasurers into the state treasury for the use of schools." Under these circumstances, it would be unreasonable to expect any material addition to the resources of schools from a reversionary interest so contingent.

CHAPTER XXI.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ON THE SCHOOL LAW.

QUESTION 2.—How is the township clerk to be paid for making an abstract of the enumeration returned to him?

ANSWER.—By the township: as for other services of like nature rendered as township clerk.

QUESTION 3.—When the directors neglect to take the enumeration, and the township clerk employs and pays a person to do it, how is the clerk to reimburse himself?

ANSWER.—Charge the amount so paid in account with the township; and then proceed to collect it of the delinquent directors, and credit the amount so collected to the school fund of the township.

QUESTION 16.—Does the new school law vest in the directors of the sub-district, or in the township boards, the right to prescribe the general rules and regulations for the government of the primary or sub-district schools?

ANSWER.—In the township boards, undoubtedly; for although sec. 6 declares, that "it shall be the duty of the school directors, in each sub-district, to take the management and control of its local interest and affairs," etc., yet this duty must be performed under, and in obedience to such rules and regulations as the township board may prescribe; as in the case of negotiating and making contracts in relation to providing fuel, repairing buildings, or furnishing school houses, etc., as provided for in sec. 7. A different construction of the law would defeat one of its most important objects, viz: that of equalizing, as far as practicable, the educational privileges of the several sub-districts of the township, and preventing the numerous disparities incident to the old independent district system.

The law is very plain on this point; for in sec. 13, it is declared that "it shall also be the further duty of said board to prescribe rules and regulations for the government of all common schools within their jurisdiction." Besides, sec. 11 makes them a body politic and corporate in law, and vests in them, in their corporate capacity, the title, care and custody of all school houses, school house sites, libraries, apparatus, and other property belonging to the school districts. It is evident, then, that their right to prescribe rules, etc., for the direction and government of the sub-districts, must be paramount, and that of the directors subordinate.

QUESTION 17.—Are township boards authorized to appoint the township clerk the acting manager of schools for the township?

ANSWER.—Undoubtedly; for sec. 10 declares, “that the township board of education shall consist of the township clerk, and of the local director from each sub-district of the township, who has been appointed clerk in his sub-district;” and near the close of sec. 13, it is declared that, “if the board deem it necessary, they may appoint one of their number the acting manager of schools for the township,” etc. The township clerk, then, being constituted by the law a member of the board of education, he may, unquestionably, be appointed the “acting manager.”

QUESTION 24.—Is each part of a fractional district entitled to three directors, and a representative in the township board?

ANSWER.—Certainly not—for this would give to each part of such district equal power with an entire district. This is evidently not in accordance with the spirit of the law, or with the intention of its framers. The misapprehension has arisen from the language used in the first section: “The several school districts and fractional parts thereof, which now are or may hereafter be established in the several organized townships of the state, shall be regarded as sub-districts, and be confided to the management and control of local directors, as hereinafter provided.”

By the expression “and fractional parts thereof,” is meant those sub-districts which contain territory lying in two or more townships. Hereafter, for the sake of avoiding misapprehension, I shall designate such sub-districts by the term joint sub-districts, and those sub-districts which lie wholly in one township, by the appellation of entire sub-districts, or simply sub-districts.

It was the intention of the law to declare all the old school districts to be sub-districts. Of course, a school district, though composed of fractional parts of adjoining townships, was still but one sub-district, and entitled to elect, as provided in section 2d, “at the usual hour and place of holding district meetings,” but one set of local directors, composed of three persons only—one of whom would be chosen clerk, and as such would be entitled to a seat in the township board of education in that township in which the school house might be located, no matter where the clerk might reside, so that he be a resident within the limits of the school district. For school purposes, he represents all the fractional parts of the sub-district, reside in which fraction he may, in the board of education of that township in which the school house happens to be located. Sec 16.

QUESTION 30.—Are members of township boards of education entitled by law to compensation for their services?

ANSWER.—The above question has been addressed to the commissioner at least fifty times, and each time it has been answered, unhesitatingly, in the negative. A proposition to pay them was voted down while the school law was pending in the late general assembly.

Officers created by the school law cannot claim an allowance for their services, unless the law, in express terms, so declares. The reasons assigned at the time the school law was under consideration, for not allowing members of township boards of education a compensation for their services, were the great number of salaried school officers that would thereby be created, and the general belief that after a few years it would not be necessary for such boards to meet more than twice in each year, and that the management and supervision of the different schools, and the educational interests of the township could be performed by the "acting manager," whom the board is authorized to appoint, and to whom "they may allow a reasonable compensation for his services." Sec. 13.

QUESTION 31.—Are township clerks entitled to remuneration for their services as members of the township boards of education—or for making and transmitting to county auditors, abstracts of the enumeration returned to them—or for taking the enumeration in case the directors in any sub-district fail to take and return the same—or for filling vacancies in the boards of local directors—or for drawing in favor of teachers—or for acting as clerks at meetings relative to central or high schools—or for prosecuting township treasurers on their bonds—or for reporting to the state commissioner when required to do so? If so, from whom and from what funds?

ANSWER.—These questions, or at least some of them, have been propounded perhaps a hundred times, and have as often been answered, as follows, viz:

The rule on this subject is understood to be, that township or county officers, neither salaried nor created by the school law, but upon whom it imposes certain new duties, are entitled to the same allowance out of their respective county or township treasuries, for services performed and expenses incurred under the school law, as is allowed them for other services of like nature rendered in their official capacity.

QUESTION 32.—Are township treasurers to be paid for services performed under the school law, out of the township school fund?

ANSWER.—Certainly not; but out of the township treasury; for near the close of sec. 28, it is declared that "the township trustees"—(not the township board of education)—"shall allow the township treasurer a compensation equal to one per cent. on"—(not one per cent. of)—"all school funds by him disbursed."

QUESTION 45.—When one local director only is to be elected at the annual sub-district meeting, and two persons receive an equal number of votes for the office, how is the election to be decided?

ANSWER.—A "tie vote" in such a case as the one submitted, is tantamount to a "failure to meet and elect," and the remedy for such an event, is provided for in section four of the school law.

After waiting a reasonable time for a special meeting of the voters to be called as prescribed in said section, if none be called, the township clerk may fill the vacancy by appointment, as provided in section three.

QUESTION 46.—Does the sub-district clerk hold his office as such, during his continuance in office as director, or one year only?

ANSWER.—The clerk of a sub-district holds his office as such, for one year, or until a successor shall be elected.

The rule as well as the practice in boards of education, and all similar boards, so far as my information extends on this subject, is for such boards to re-organize annually in all cases where a part of their members are elected, and a part of them go out of office at the end of each year.

QUESTION 48.—The citizens of school district No. 7, Union township, Hancock county, state the subjoined facts, in relation to the above district, viz: seven-eighths of the population of said district are on the two south sections of said district in and near the village of Cannonsburg. The district has had a site which is central to the two south sections, and a school house on it for the last twelve or fourteen years. Five or six families, now residing on the east, west, and southwest sections of the present site, are obliged to send from one to one and a half miles; and the two or three families residing on the north sections send an equal distance. The board of education have ordered the erection of the school houses at the geographical centers of the districts. What is the rule and the law on this subject?

ANSWER.—In section 14, of the new school act, it is declared that, "in the location of schools, the board shall have reference to population and neighborhood, paying due regard to any school house already built or site procured, as well as to all other circumstances proper to be considered, so as to promote the best interests of the schools. Hence it would seem it is not the intention of the legislature to regard, in all cases, the geographical center of a district as the proper site for a school house; nor should the center as to population determine the site, for such a rule might oppress the minority.

Leaving out of consideration the school house already erected and the site procured, it might be a safe rule to regard as a suitable site some point nearly intermediate the geographical center, and the center as to population. It is better that half a dozen children should be required to walk a distance of somewhat more than a mile, than that fifty children should be compelled to walk that distance to school.

If the two northern sections of said district are rapidly increasing in population, or are likely to so increase in the course of a few years, that fact should be taken into the account in locating the site; or if there is a prospect that the two northern sections will soon have a population sufficient for a separate school, it would seem best not to change the old site in the southern sections. But if there is no probability that more than one school will be required for the population of the four sections, then regard should be paid to the present, as well as prospective distribution of the population of the entire district.

In adjusting this matter, the members of the board should, in imagination at least, endeavor to place themselves in the several situations and condition of the inhabitants of the entire district, and from these several points of view, carefully consider the interests of all, and then fix upon a site which will accommodate the greatest number, and, at the same time, seriously incommod none.

QUESTION 52.—Our school district is over two and a half miles square, and in the very centre of it lies a farm of some three hundred acres of land, and the owner utterly refuses to convey any portion of it for a school house site. Is there any law by which our local directors, or the township board of education, can procure a site for a school house on said farm, if the owner persists in his refusal to sell or lease?

ANSWER.—There is no such law. A bill was introduced into the late general assembly providing a mode by which township boards of education might, under circumstances like those stated above, obtain a suitable site for a school house. The bill passed the lower House, but was lost in the senate. The law should most unquestionably make some provision for procuring school house sites where the owners of the land refuse, without good cause, to sell. If it is right to condemn land for railroads, no good reason can be assigned why some similar provision should not be made for the benefit of common schools and the cause of education. The reason, no doubt, that such a law was not enacted by the late general assembly, was that a majority of the senators and representatives could not bring their minds to believe that in this land of common schools, this republican country, where the principle is fully recognized "that there is no security for a free government, but in the intelligence and virtue of the people," any gentleman could be found who would not, for love or money, accommodate his friends, his neighbors, the rising generation, his country and humanity, by selling or leasing to them a small piece of ground for a school house site!

QUESTION 54.—Is a colored person eligible to the office of local director, in the sub-district in which he resides? and if appointed clerk in his sub-district, can he lawfully claim a seat in the township board of education?

ANSWER.—In article XV., sec. 4, of the constitution of Ohio, the following language is found, viz: "No person shall be elected or appointed to any office in this state, unless he possess the qualifications of an elector."

Section 1, article V., of the same instrument, reads as follows, to wit: "Every white male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of the state one year next preceding the election, and of the county, township, or ward in which he resides, such time as may be provided by law, shall have the qualifications of an elector, and be entitled to vote at all elections."

From the above provisions of the constitution of this state, it is obvious that colored persons are not eligible to the office of local director of a sub-district.

Schools for colored youth must be established, regulated and controlled by township boards of education, in accordance with the provisions contained in sec. 31 of the new school act.

QUESTION 57.—When a person is employed to teach school by the month, of how many days shall a month consist? On what holidays may a teacher dismiss his school? To what vacations would a teacher be entitled when employed by the year?

ANSWER.—The holidays on which a teacher may dismiss his school, are such as it is customary to observe, either through the country or in particular localities; among these may be enumerated the fourth of July, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year, etc.

The teacher may also, unless restrained by special contract to the contrary, dismiss his school on the afternoon of each Saturday, or on every Saturday, or every alternate Saturday, according to the particular custom of the district in that respect. In the absence of an express agreement to the contrary, a school month consists of four weeks, or a calendar month, according to the particular custom of the district, city, or township. If, in a particular locality, four weeks have been regarded as a school month, and both teacher and directors are cognizant of the custom when the former is employed, and the contract between the parties does not expressly declare what shall be considered a month, the matter of time must be determined by the particular custom of the place.

The length of vacations to which the teachers are entitled when employed to teach by the year, is, like the length of a school month, determined by custom, in the absence of an express agreement between the parties.

QUESTION 63.—Are township boards of education legally empowered to change or alter school districts, by consolidation or otherwise, at special meetings?

ANSWER.—They are not; for sec. 14 empowers them to change or alter sub-districts at any regular sessions on the third Monday of April and October in each year, with power, however, to adjourn, from time to time, until all the business required to be transacted at regular meetings shall have been accomplished.

A regular meeting, then, adjourned from day to day, or from week to week, &c., is still a regular meeting, at which sub-districts may be changed or altered.

The framers of the law seemed to regard the re-districting of a township, as well as the change or alteration of a sub-district, as matters of too much importance to be performed at any other than the regular meetings of the board, notice of which would be brought to every inhabitant of the township or sub-district by the law itself. Besides, if alterations are required, they should be made as the law requires, in April or October, just previous to the opening of the winter or spring sessions of the schools. Great practical inconvenience might result from such change or alteration in the middle of a school term or session, and township boards of education be greatly embarrassed in distributing the school moneys applicable to the payment of teachers.

QUESTION 67.—In a sub-district in which a new school-house is being erected for the accommodation of three hundred and fifty scholars, $300 is needed to complete the new house and repair the old one; and the questions submitted are, how shall the money be raised, in case the township board of education refuse to certify the amount so needed to the county auditor for assessment on the taxable property of the township, on or before the first Monday of June next; and whether the local directors of aid sub-district are legally empowered to borrow the said sum of $300, and secure its payment by executing a mortgage upon the said school-house?

ANSWER.—In sec. 7 of the school law, it is declared that all contracts for the specific purposes therein mentioned, must be negotiated and made “under such rules and regulations as the township board of education may prescribe,” and that local directors are not empowered to enter into contracts involving an expenditure beyond a certain amount, without authority from the township board.

As the township board, by the provisions contained in sec. 11, is made a “body politic and corporate in law—capable of contracting and being contracted with—and as such is vested, in its corporate capacity, with the title, care and custody of all school-houses,” etc., it follows, as a matter of course, that local directors are not empowered to execute mortgages upon school-houses or other school property to raise funds for school purposes.

It is exceedingly questionable whether even township boards of education possess any such power; for in sec. 43, it is expressly declared that “each and every lot or parcel of land which heretofore has been, or hereafter shall be, appropriated for the use of common schools in this state, on which there has been or shall be a school-house erected, and which has been or shall be occupied for the purpose of accommodating a common school of whatever grade, in the usual manner, from time to time, howsoever or by whomsoever the legal title to the same may be held and vested, shall be, and the same is hereby exempted from the sale on execution, or other writ or order in the nature of an execution.”

A school-house and site being thus exempted from sale, etc., it would seem that a mortgage executed on the same, to secure the cost of building a new school-house, could be of no validity.

Besides, there can be no need of any such security; for when the township board authorizes the local directors of a sub-district to negotiate and make a contract for the erection of a new school-house, etc., the last clause of sec. 7 holds the township board “responsible in its corporate capacity for the performance thereof;” and should they neglect or refuse to make and certify at the proper time, the necessary estimates therefor, to the county auditor, the court, on application, would compel them to do so, by writ of mandamus, or the party suffering by their neglect could enter suit against them, as provided for in sec. 65. Such a debt is virtually a debt against the whole township, and must be assessed on the taxable property of the township, which would be a far better security than a mortgage on a school-house, even if it could be legally given for the purpose of securing the debt as proposed.

QUESTION 69.—Are the inhabitants of an incorporated village, including the territory annexed to the same for school purposes, which contains not less than three hundred inhabitants, and which, by the new school law, is created a separate school district, with a separate board of education, still at liberty to adopt the provisions of the "act for the better regulation of schools in cities, towns," etc., passed February 21, 1849, and the acts amendatory thereto?

ANSWER.—They are thus authorized; for the present school law "must not be so construed as to repeal, change, or modify in any respect," the several provisions of certain acts specified in the first clause of sec. 67. In the last clause of sec. 1, it is expressly declared that "nothing in the new school law shall be so construed as to give to the township board of education jurisdiction over any territory in the township included within the limits of any city or incorporated village, which now is, or may hereafter be governed as to schools by any special or other act, specified in the sixty-seventh section of this act." The language, "or may hereafter be governed," etc., settles the question beyond doubt.

One of the most important characteristics of our school system, is its flexibility. If the inhabitants of a city, town or incorporated village, containing a certain number of inhabitants, organized as to schools under any of the acts referred to in the first part of sec. 67, prefer the provisions contained in sections 32, 33, 34 and 35 of the general school law, sec. 66 authorizes the change, and points out the way in which it may be effected. On the other hand, if the inhabitants of any city, town or village, desire to have their schools organized under any of the acts mentioned in the first part of sec. 67, it can be done in the manner prescribed in those acts respectively. Hence the inhabitants of no city, town or village in the state, can have any reason to complain of the general assembly of the state for not providing them with a school law adapted to their peculiar condition.

QUESTION 71.—In the incorporated village of Greenfield, there is a good seminary building, which, with a little remodeling, would accommodate all the scholars in the corporation. There is no public school house in which the common schools of the village can be kept during the coming winter.

Under the above circumstances, would it be legal for the board of education to enter into arrangements with the principal of said seminary, for the instruction of all the scholars of the town, agreeing to pay him the public funds applicable to the payment of teachers, and authorize him to charge those sending to the school such tuition fees as would remunerate him and his assistants for the balance of the expense of instructing such scholars? And has the board the power to provide for keeping the common schools in operation, after the state funds have been exhausted, by charging parents, pro rata, such tuition fees as would cover the balance of the expense?

ANSWER.—A negative answer must be returned to both of the above questions; for the present school law contains no provisions authorizing local directors or boards of education to raise by rate bill, made out against those sending to school, in proportion to the number of children sent, to be ascertained by the teacher's list, as under the former school law, for the purpose of meeting any balance for the payment of teachers' wages, or other school expenses, incurred beyond the amount apportioned to a district from the state school funds.

In section 63, it is expressly provided that, "for the purpose of affording the advantages of a free education to all the youth of this state, the state common school fund shall hereafter consist of such a sum," &c. In the last clause of sec. 24, it is declared to be the duty of "each township board to make the necessary provision for continuing the schools in operation in their respective townships for at least seven months in each year;" and this provision must be made in the manner prescribed in the first clause of sec. 22, where it is made the "duty of the board of education in each organized township of the state, annually to determine by estimate, as nearly as practicable, such additional amount as the board may think necessary, not exceeding two mills on the dollar valuation of the taxable property of the township," for the purpose of prolonging, after the state funds have been exhausted, the terms of the several sub-district or primary schools in the township. By the provisions contained in secs. 32, 33, 34 and 35, each city, or incorporated village, &c., is created a separate school district, with a board of education, authorized "to perform the same duties, and to exercise all the powers which are by this act conferred upon township boards of education."

Whenever it shall become necessary or expedient, then, to prolong, after the state funds have been exhausted, the schools in any city or incorporated village, organized as schools, under the provisions of the general school law, the board of education of such city or village should "make an estimate for that purpose, and certify the same to the county auditor," according to the provisions contained in sec. 22.

QUESTION 73.—In a certain sub-district, seven colored youth were enumerated in October last. The county auditor apportioned the school money belonging to the township in which said sub-district is situated, to the several sub-districts in said township, in proportion to the number of youth in each, without distinguishing the amount distributed on account of said colored youth. There are no other colored youth in the township, consequently no school for colored children has been established by the township board of education. The local directors refuse to admit said colored children to the school in said sub-district; but wish to appropriate the money derived from the state school tax on account of said colored youth, to the education of the white youth in said sub-district. Does the school law authorize such an appropriation to be made?

ANSWER.—It does not. The law requires the directors in each sub-district to enumerate separately the colored youth, in order that the amount of school funds applicable to the payment of teachers, and apportioned to any township on account of the colored youth resident therein, may be expended for their instruction, and for no other purpose.

There is some ambiguity, it is true, in the language employed in sec. 31, owing it is believed, to faulty punctuation. But from all the provisions contained in the law relative to colored youth, and from the statements of those who aided in drawing up those provisions, the following may be regarded as the fair and legitimate construction:

1. The proper boards of education are required to establish, within their respective jurisdictions, one or more separate schools for colored children, when the whole number by enumeration exceeds thirty, and to continue said schools in operation until the moneys apportioned on account of said colored youth shall be exhausted, or until the average number in attendance shall be less than fifteen for any one month. In the latter case it is made the duty of the board of education, or other school officers, to discontinue said school or schools for a period not exceeding six months at any one time.

2. When the whole number by enumeration is less than thirty and more than fifteen, it is the duty of the board to provide a school for colored children, whenever the funds applicable to that purpose shall be sufficient to keep the school in operation a reasonable length of time.

3. If the number of colored children shall be less than fifteen, the directors shall reserve the money raised on the number of said colored children, and the money so reserved shall be appropriated for the education of such colored children, under the direction of the township board.

4. The money so reserved for the education of colored children, may be used to procure for them private instruction; or the teacher of the sub-district school may be employed to instruct them in an evening school, or at such other times as may be deemed expedient; or they may be instructed during the vacation of the school for white youth; or they may be admitted to the common school of the sub-district, if no objections are raised against such an arrangement.

QUESTION 76.—Are children of less than half African blood, entitled, as a matter of legal right, to the privilege of attending the common schools of this state?

ANSWER.—To answer the above question, it is necessary to ascertain the judicial construction of the term "white," as used in the constitution of this state.

In the case of Gray v. the State of Ohio, found in vol. IV, Ohio Reports, page 354, it is held that persons nearer white than a mulatto, or half blood, were entitled to the privileges of whites.

Williams v. School Directors, etc., vol., Wright's Reports, page 578: In this case, the question was, whether the children of a white mother and a father three-quarters white, are white children, within the meaning of the school law. Affirmative opinion given.

Thacker v. Hawk, et al., vol. XI, Ohio Reports, page 876: In this case it was held that a person nearer white than a mulatto, is a white person, within the meaning of the constitution.

Lane v. Baker, et al., vol. XII Ohio Reports, page 237: Held, that youth of Negro, Indian, and white blood, but of more than half white blood, are entitled to the benefit of the school fund.

According to the decisions in the cases cited, an affirmative must be given to the question propounded.

QUESTION 79.—How shall the wages of a teacher, employed in a sub-district composed of parts of four townships, be paid, and how shall the other expenses of such a school be defrayed?

ANSWER.—The local directors should give him a certificate, or certificates, of the amount or sums due him, from the treasurers of each of said townships. These several sums can be easily ascertained; for the enumeration of youth of school age, resident in each of the parts of a joint or fractional sub-district, is required to be separately taken, and reported to the clerk of the township in which such part is situated.

The amount of money necessary to be expended in a fractional sub-district, for school purposes other than for the payment of teachers, should be estimated by the board of education having the control and management of such joint school. The respective boards of the adjoining townships so connected for school purposes, should certify their share of said amount to the auditor of their county, as a part of their annual estimates.

for school purposes, and draw orders on their respective township treasurers, for said shares, in favor of the board of that township in which such school is located.

The teacher of a school, in a fractional sub-district, should file his report with the clerk of the township in which the school house is located, or whose board of education has the control and management of said joint school, and obtain from said clerk, a certificate of the fact of his having filed his report as required by law; which certificate he should exhibit to the clerks of the other townships, when he applies to them for orders on the township treasurers, for the respective sums certified to be due to him, by the local directors of said fractional sub-district.

QUESTION 82.—Mr. J—, a teacher in the common schools of the town of M—, has been prosecuted for inflicting corporal punishment on one of the scholars, who had repeatedly transgressed the rules of his school. It is not pretended that the punishment was disproportionate to the offense, or that the scholar received any personal injury; for the teacher struck him only three blows with an ordinary rod.

What is the law in regard to the right of a teacher to inflict corporal punishment on his scholars? Are there any cases or decisions which settle this question?

ANSWER.—The question as to the right of a teacher to inflict corporal punishment upon scholars, has never come before the supreme court of this state. Teachers have been prosecuted in this as well as in other states for inflicting such punishment, and the question as to their legal right to do so, has been frequently raised; but the decisions have, very generally, been in favor of such right. The teacher being in loco parentis, and responsible for the government and proper discipline of his school, is clothed with the same power to punish scholars for refractory conduct, which is allowed by law to a parent in the government of his children. The decisions of all the cases of this kind, within the knowledge of the undersigned, have generally turned on the point, whether the punishment was reasonable or not.

In a case which came before John C. Spencer, one of the ablest jurists of the State of New York, while he was superintendent ex officio of common schools, he decided that "the authority of the teacher to punish his scholars, extends to acts done in the school room, or on the play-ground. The teacher of a school has, necessarily, the government of it, and he may prescribe the rules and principles on which such government will be conducted. The trustees should not interfere with the discipline of the school, except on complaint of misconduct on the part of the teacher; and they should then invariably sustain such teacher, unless his conduct has been grossly wrong."

A similar decision was made by John A. Dix, a distinguished statesman and jurist, while he was superintendent of common schools. He said: "The teacher is responsible for maintaining good order, and he must be the judge of the degree and nature of the punishment required, where his authority is set at defiance. At the same time, he is liable to the party injured for any abuse of a prerogative which is wholly derived from custom."

In Kent's Commentaries, seventh edition, vol. ii, page 212, note, the following decision may be found: "A school-master, who stands in loco parentis, may, in proper cases, inflict moderate and reasonable chastisement." The State v. Prendergrass.

The subjoined cases are somewhat analogous. "The master of a vessel may inflict moderate correction on his seamen for sufficient cause; yet if he exceeds the bounds of moderation, and is guilty of unnecessary severity, he will be liable for a trespass." 14 Johns. Rep. 119. "A master may justify the chastisement of his apprentice, servant or scholor, if it is done with a proper instrument and in a proper manner." 3 Salkeld, 47.

In Wharton's American Criminal Law, page 464, the following principle is laid down: "It is admissible for the defendant to show that the alleged battery was merely the correcting of a child by its parent, the correcting of a servant or scholar by his master, or the punishment of the criminal by a proper officer; but if the parent or master chastising the child exceed the bound of moderation, and inflict cruel and merciless punishment, he is a trespasser and liable to be punished by indictment. The law confides to schoolmasters and teachers a discretionary power in the infliction of punishment upon pupils, and will not hold them responsible criminally, unless the punishment be such as to occasion permanent injury to the child, or be inflicted merely to gratify their own evil passions."

From the foregoing opinions and decisions, the principle would seem to be pretty well settled, that the power allowed by law to the parent over the person of his child, by the act of sending the child to school, delegated, for the time being, to the teacher; and that the same circumstances which would justify a parent in resorting to corporal punishment, in order to subdue a disobedient child, will also justify a teacher in the use of the same means to control a refractory scholar.

There has been, it is true, much diversity of opinion among eminent educationists and others, as to the necessity, expediency, or even utility of corporal punishment as a means of school government; but the right of the teacher thus to punish his scholars, for stubborn and continued resistance to his authority, has not been judicially denied.

QUESTION 85.—It is claimed by some of the citizens of the village of _____, that a teacher has no legal authority to punish his scholars for disorderly, immoral, or improper acts done while on their way to or from school, or at noon. If such is the law, how shall those be restrained, who abuse their school mates, and use profane and other unbecoming language in their presence, before or after school, or at noon?

ANSWER.—The legal right of the teacher to punish his scholars for disorderly acts done in the school room or on the play-ground, before the opening of the school, after its close, during morning or afternoon recess, or at noon, has been fully recognized by the courts of this country. But whether his authority to punish his scholars extends to immoral or disorderly conduct elsewhere, is not so fully established. By some it is contended that the legal right of a teacher to inflict corporal punishment upon a scholar in any case, is derived from the fact that he stands in "loco parentis," and therefore it can not be extended to acts done before this relation has commenced, or after it has terminated, without the express consent of the parent. It is further contended that this delegation to the teacher of the power allowed by law to the parent over the person of his child does not take place till the child has reached the school premises, and must end when he leaves for home. On the contrary, it is maintained by others, that the right of a teacher to hold his scholars responsible for improper conduct on their way to and from school, is fully sanctioned by usage. Under all the circumstances, it is believed that the most prudent course for a teacher to take in a case like the one presented, would be to notify the parent of the misconduct complained of, and if his permission to punish the offending scholar can be obtained, and the disorderly behavior be repeated, then to refer the matter to the board of education. ●

There can be no doubt that boards of education possess the legal power to make and enforce such rules and regulations as in their judgment may be necessary for the best interests of the schools within their jurisdiction; and it is their duty as well as their right to co-operate with the teacher in the government of the school, and to aid him to the extent of their power and influence in the enforcement of reasonable and proper rules and regulations, and to dismiss a scholar from the school whenever he uses at school, or on his way to or from the same, such rude, vulgar or profane language, and exhibits such a degree of moral depravity generally, as to render his association with other scholars dangerous to the latter, or whenever he manifests such violent insubordination as to render the maintenance of discipline and order in the school impracticable or extremely difficult. It is also the duty as well as the legal right of the local directors to see that the general character, usefulness, and prosperity of the school are not impaired by allowing those to remain in it, whose whole influence, conduct, and bad character, have forfeited all claim to the enjoyment of its privileges.

QUESTION 86.—Does the new school law empower the householders, the local directors, or the township board of education, to select and purchase sites for school-houses in sub-districts?

ANSWER.—It empowers township boards of education, unquestionably. This is evident from the provisions contained in the first, eleventh, fourteenth and fifteenth sections of the law.

By the eighth section of the school act, passed March 7, 1838, the board of local directors and their successors in office, in each school district, was declared to be a body politic and corporate in law, and, as such, capable of contracting and being contracted with, suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded in any court of law or equity in this state, and of receiving any gift, grant, donation or devise, made to, or for the use of such district, and also of receiving a deed of conveyance or lease for any land whereon to erect a school-house or houses, &c. By sec. 10, of the present school law, the same is declared in regard to township boards of education. By sec. 9, of the act of 1838, it was declared that the board of local directors should have power to divide their district into sub-districts, and select sites for school-houses and purchase the same. By the last clause of sec. 14 of the present school act, the same power is conferred upon township boards of education; for it is there declared to be "the duty of the board to establish a school in each sub-district of the township of such grade as the public good in their opinion may require; and in the location of primary schools or schools of higher grade, the board shall have reference to population and neighborhood," &c.

Under the present law, then, local directors are not bodies corporate and politic, etc., nor are they empowered to select or purchase sites for school-houses, except under the direction and subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the township board of education.

By reference to the school acts passed in 1821, 1825, 1829, 1831, 1834, 1835, 1838, and in 1853, it will be seen that the mode of selecting school-house sites, as well as that of deciding upon the erection and cost of school-houses, has undergone frequent changes. Prior to the passage of the school act of 1838, either a majority, or two-thirds, or three-fifths of the householders, or tax payers, or qualified voters of a school district, at the annual meeting, or at a special meeting called with ten, or twenty, or thirty days' notice, determined upon the location of the site, as well as upon the erection and cost of the school-house. By the school act of 1838, the power to select and purchase school-house sites, was given to local directors; but the right of deciding whether a school-house should be erected or not, and what amount of money should be expended therefor, was still left with the householders of the several school districts.

By the present school act, township boards of education are empowered to select and purchase school-house sites, to determine the cost of new school houses, to make estimates therefor, and to certify the same to their county auditors. In short, the township school system is analagous to the graded or union school system, which has been so generally adopted in cities and towns. In both cases the boards of education form, change, or alter the sub-districts, provide for the erection of school-houses, and determine the grades of the schools. The local directors, trustees, or special committees, attend to the details of the business, and see that the orders of the board, and all the rules and regulations prescribed by them for the management and government of the schools, are carried into full and efficient execution.

The undersigned would, however, impress upon boards of education the importance of exercising great care and mature deliberation in the alteration of school districts, the selection of sites for school-houses, and in determining the dimensions and plans for school-houses.

Boards of education should also take the utmost pains to secure the general co-operation of all the directors and inhabitants interested, and to avoid, as far as possible, all those sources of contention and discord, which often prove so fatal to the prosperity, harmony and efficiency of the school. It is often better to submit, for a time, to many inconveniences, than to hazard the disastrous results which uniformly follow any general dissatisfaction with the alteration of school districts, the changing of school-house sites, and the tax imposed for the erection of new school-houses. A little patience and delay will generally enable the good sense of the inhabitants ultimately to perceive what will redound to their best and true interests.

QUESTION 91.—The local directors of sub-district No. —, in — town-ship, employed an individual to teach their school, who failed to obtain a certificate; but at the request of the inhabitants of said district, who pledged him his wages, he continued to teach the school. At the expiration of his term, the local directors gave him a certificate of the amount due for his services, although he held no certificate of qualification; but the clerk of the board of education declined giving him an order on the township treasurer.

The case was subsequently brought before the board of education, who directed the clerk to issue an order in favor of the said local directors, to reimburse them for money advanced to pay said teacher; but the clerk still refused, on the ground that he was not authorized to draw orders on the township treasurer, for the payment of teachers who do not hold certificates of qualification, as required by the school law. Is it legal and proper for said clerk thus to refuse?

ANSWER.—In secs. 45 and 24, of the school law, it is declared that no person shall be employed as a teacher in any common school, unless such person shall have first obtained a proper certificate from the board of school examiners; and that the clerk of the board of education is not legally empowered to draw orders on the township treasurer, in favor of teachers for such amounts as may have been certified to be due them, except on the presentation of their certificates of qualification. No requirement of the law is plainer than that no school funds applicable to the payment of teachers' wages, shall be paid to teachers who have not been able to obtain the proper certificates. The law does not authorize boards of education to order the disbursement of school funds to uncertificated teachers, or to local directors who may have advanced their own money to pay such teachers. Boards of education have no more right to disregard the provisions of the school law in regard to the payment of school funds to teachers, than they have to nullify the entire law. Indeed, this is one of its most important and most sacred provisions.

It has been decided over and over again, by the courts in other states, whose school laws contain provisions in relation to the employment of teachers similar to those in the school law of this state, that school funds which, by the terms of the law, are made applicable to the payment of teachers' wages only, cannot legally be paid to teachers who do not hold the proper certificates, and if so paid in violation of law, the money may be recovered of the school officers thus illegally disbursing it.

It has also been repeatedly decided that when local directors or trustees of school districts employ a person as teacher, who fails to obtain the requisite certificate, they may discharge him, and he cannot recover for services thus rendered. If they engage him as a qualified teacher, the moment he ceases to be so, there is a failure of the consideration for the contract. But if they continue him in the school after notice that he has failed to sustain the requisite examination, or that his certificate had been annulled, it will be regarded as such a continuance of the contract, that they will not be allowed, at a subsequent period, to dispute it, and they will render themselves personally liable for the payment of teachers' wages.

A teacher thus continued, after failing to obtain a proper certificate, if compensated at all for his services, must be paid by the local directors, or by the inhabitants of the district at whose instance he was retained, and whose children attended the school. Under such circumstances the school becomes a private school, and must be sustained as a private school, and no portion of the public school fund can legally be applied to sustain it.

QUESTION 93.—When the local directors of one of the sub-districts in a township, in order to secure the services of a teacher, competent to give instruction in several of the higher branches, agree to pay him much higher wages than are paid to the teachers in the other sub-districts, would the board of education be justifiable in apportioning to such district more than its pro-rata share of the school fund raised in said township for the purpose of prolonging its schools, in order that the school in said district may be continued in operation, during the year, for the term of seven months?

ANSWER.—A deviation from the rule of apportionment, prescribed in sec. 24, would not be proper under such circumstances. It is believed that such a deviation is warrantable only in cases where, owing to the peculiar features of the territory, sparseness of population, bad condition or want of roads, or other unavoidable obstacles, it becomes necessary to form or continue a sub-district, containing quite a small number of youth of school age. To such a weak district more than its pro-rata share of the township school fund may properly be apportioned in order that its scholars may enjoy the privilege of attending school for at least seven months in each year. It is unquestionably right and proper that township boards of education should make such liberal and reasonable provisions for keeping the schools under their charge in operation a proper length of time, as would enable the local directors to offer such compensation as would secure the services of well-qualified teachers. Boards of education should be frugal, but not parsimonious, liberal but not extravagant. It is not to be believed that any intelligent citizen will consider that sordidness to be economy, which prefers that their children should be brought up in ignorance, or instructed in error, rather than contribute the mere trifle which will secure to them an education, sound and accurate, at least as far as it goes. Nor is it necessary, under the present school law, that instruction in our common schools should, in all cases, be restricted to spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, and English grammar. By sec. 17, the power to determine the studies to be pursued in the several schools under their control, is wisely vested in the boards of education. In the exercise of this power, they should use a sound discretion, but they should not cripple the efforts of local directors to elevate the character of their schools and foster the interests of education in all judicious ways.

QUESTION 102.—When a school examiner vacates his office by resignation, refusal to serve, removal out of the county, or otherwise, should the vacancy be filled by appointment for the full term of two years, or only for the unexpired term of the examiner who thus vacates his office?

ANSWER.—The appointment should evidently be made for the full term of two years. This is obvious from the language employed in the last clause of sec. 44 of the school act: "All vacancies in said board, which may thereafter occur, whether from expiration of the term of office, refusal to serve, or otherwise, shall be filled by like appointment by said judge."

It requires no argument to show that vacancies resulting from expiration of the term of office, should be filled by appointment for the full term of two years. But the two classes of vacancies are required to be filled by like appointment by said judge. The term "like" must either be construed as referring to the length of time which the school examiners first appointed under the present school law, were entitled to hold their office, or to the fact that appointments to fill vacancies resulting from any of the causes stated in sec. 44, are required to be made for the same length of time, viz.: two years.

That the foregoing is a proper interpretation of sec. 44, will appear the more manifest by observing the language employed on the subject of vacancies, in sec. 3:—"In case a vacancy shall occur in the office of director, by death, resignation, refusal to serve or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the township clerk to fill such vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term." In this section of the law, vacancies which are occasioned by expiration of the term of office are not coupled with those resulting from other causes, and for the obvious reason that the former are required to be filled by an election, as provided in secs. 2 and 4. When, therefore, the term of office of a local director has expired, the vacancy resulting therefrom can not be filled by an appointment.

By sec. 2, it is provided that each director shall continue in office, until his successor is elected and qualified.

The general rule on this subject is, that, where the law does not expressly declare that the appointment shall be for the unexpired term, and where it does not provide that one part of the board of officers shall be elected, and another go out of office at regular and stated intervals, all vacancies shall be filled by appointments for the full term.

QUESTION 99.—To what extent are township boards of education legally responsible for the performance of contracts negotiated and made by local directors in relation the purchasing of school house sites, the building, furnishing, or repairing of school houses, the employment of teachers, and the providing of fuel for schools?

ANSWER.—Boards of education are legally responsible for the performance of such contracts so far as the same may have been negotiated and made in obedience to the rules and regulations prescribed by said boards, or so far as the consent or order of said boards for making such contracts may have been obtained.

In contracting for the purchase of a school house site, or for building and furnishing a new school house, local directors can not exceed, without rendering themselves personally liable, the sum specially estimated and set apart by said boards, for those specific objects in each particular year and for each particular sub-district, unless they first procure the consent or authority of said boards of education.

In making contracts for providing fuel, making ordinary repairs, and all other provisions necessary for the convenience and prosperity of their school, local directors may, in the absence of any general rules on the subject, use as much of the money applicable to such purposes, as in any one year, shall not exceed the amount distributable to their sub-district in proportion to the enumeration of scholars resident therein. But should they exceed that sum without first obtaining an order therefor from the township board of education, they would render themselves personally responsible for such excess, unless it could be made to appear that the board had palpably neglected to make, as the school law requires, the necessary provisions for such indispensable school expenses, and had been contumacious in withholding their assent to the reasonable request of said local directors.

In making contracts with teachers, local directors should not, as a general rule, incur expenses beyond their proportion of the school fund derived from the state, and that raised in the township for the purpose of prolonging the schools therein after the state fund had been exhausted.

The school law imposes upon boards of education the duty of making the necessary provisions for continuing the schools in operation, in their respective townships for at least seven months in each year, and requires them annually to determine by estimate, as nearly as practicable, the amount of money necessary to be expended for that purpose. Local directors ought, therefore, to pay due regard to such estimates, in negotiating the contracts which the law authorizes them to make. Although the estimates of the board prove inadequate to secure the objects designed, yet local directors possess no legal power to supply the deficiency.

When boards of education utterly neglect to perform any duty which the law enjoins upon them, local directors may apply to the proper court for a writ of mandamus to compel its performance.

Boards of education ought to make in the record of their proceedings, separate entries of the several amounts of money estimated by them for building and furnishing school houses, for providing fuel and making repairs, and for prolonging schools in the several sub-districts in their respective townships, to the end that local directors may know what sums they are authorized to expend for each of the above purposes.

QUESTION 104.—The board of school examiners of — county, held an adjourned meeting on the first Monday of April last; and on the same day, and at the same place, the annual township election was held in the court house. The schools of the town being in session on that day, it became necessary for said board of examiners to rent a room for the purpose of holding said examination, as the free use of no suitable room could be procured. Can the county auditor legally issue his warrant on the county treasurer for the payment of said rent? In other words, does the law authorize county auditors to furnish rooms and fuel, as well as books and stationery, for the purpose of accommodating such examinations?

ANSWER.—In answering the foregoing question, it is proper to state, that it has not been customary in the counties of this state, or in other states, to rent rooms for the accommodation of meetings held for the examination of teachers. The reason is, no doubt, that boards of school examiners have generally been able to procure suitable rooms without the payment of rent. The use of court houses, school houses, churches, or public halls, has generally been freely tendered to them for this important object.

But inasmuch as it is made the "duty of the examiners to fix upon the time of holding meetings for the examination of teachers, in such place in their respective counties as will, in their opinion, best accommodate the greatest number of candidates for examination," it would seem reasonable and proper, when suitable rooms could not be procured without payment of rent, that county auditors should authorize the examiners to hire rooms, and should issue warrants for the payment of the expenses necessarily incurred in procuring such rooms, providing stationery, fuel, etc.

QUESTION 106.—A youth now fourteen years of age, and an orphan, resided since the death of his parents, with his sister in Sandusky, until a year ago, when he visited his brothers in Indiana and Illinois. Having however, always regarded his home as at his sister's he returned to this state, and when she moved to the village of — he went with her, and was permitted to attend the common school of said village. Not long since, he went to live with a gentleman, a resident of said village, expecting to remain with him, for an indefinite period of time, perhaps until he should be twenty-one years old, unless prevented by some misunderstanding, not then apprehended.

The question has been raised by the board of education, as to the right of said youth to attend the union school of said village, as a resident scholar. Does the school law give him that right?

ANSWER.—Perhaps the best way to settle the above question, is to inquire whether said youth might legally have been included in the annual enumeration of the youth of said village, had the law required such enumeration to be taken at the very time said question arose. In sec. 8 of the present school law, it is declared that such enumeration shall include all those who are residents within the school district and not temporarily there. The youth in question was not temporarily in said village, for he came there, as it would seem, with the intention of remaining, and that constituted him in law, a resident.

Moreover, in sec. 63, it is declared that the state school fund is raised for the express purpose of affording the advantages of a free education to all the youth of this state; and there can be no doubt that the boy referred to is one of said youth, and as such is entitled to the privilege of attending some one of the common schools of the state, and if some one, it must be that of the village already referred to.

The question as to what particular school the youth of school age have a right to attend, is well settled in the following cases, viz:

1. They are entitled to the privilege of attending the school in the district where their parents, guardians, or employers reside, although such residence be temporary, provided they actually compose a part of the family of such parents, guardians, or employer.

2. If they are hired to labor or service in the family of an inhabitant of the district, and are regarded and treated as part of his family and not as mere temporary boarders, they are entitled to participate in the privileges of the district school.

3. If they have neither parents nor guardians, they may attend the school of the district in which the families reside, with whom they elect to make their homes. In short, they may attend the school of the district where they are temporarily residing, provided they could not legally be enumerated in any other district.

But children coming into a district and boarding for the purpose of attending school therein, are not entitled to that privilege, unless the school directors see fit to grant it.

If a person, however, who is not an inhabitant of some other district, resides temporarily in a given district, all the children of school age belonging to his family, may attend the school of the district in which he thus temporarily resides.

QUESTION 108.—Has a teacher the legal right to open his school with prayer?

ANSWER.—On this extremely delicate and important matter, I have not been able to find any decision of the supreme court of this state. But in the state of New York it has been decided under a school law, similar to that of this state, that “teachers may open and close their schools with prayer, and the reading of the scriptures; provided they take care to avoid all controverted points or sectarian dogmas.”

In some states it has been held that teachers cannot claim this right as a matter of course; but that school officers may, in the exercise of a sound discretion, permit them to open and close their schools with prayer, provided the inhabitants of the district do not seriously object, and provided also that the harmony of the district would not seriously be disturbed thereby.

If the teacher, in his prayers, avoids all sectarian dogmas, and does not improperly consume time, I do not see why he may not be permitted to do what he believes to be his conscientious duty for the welfare of those committed to his charge, by appropriately invoking the blessings of God upon his important and responsible labors, as by properly addressing or lecturing his pupils upon the importance of a strict adherence to the principles of truth, justice and morality.

But the teacher should not insist on this privilege, nor should the local directors grant it in cases where it would create dissatisfaction in the district, or induce a portion of the inhabitants to withdraw their children from school, because of sincere conscientious scruples on this subject.

The question as to the right of opening a school with prayer is one of great delicacy, and should be treated accordingly. In a matter of such grave character, involving the interests of religion, the freedom of conscience, and a sense of duty, school officers, teachers, and the inhabitants generally, should exercise great forbearance and a spirit of conciliation. John C. Spencer, one of the most distinguished jurists in the state of New York, while acting as superintendent of common schools in that state, decided a similar question as follows, viz: "Prayers cannot form any part of the school exercises, or be regulated by the school discipline. If had at all, they should be had before the usual hour of commencing school in the morning, and after the hour of closing school in the afternoon. If any parents are desirous of habituating their children to the practice of thanking their Creator for his protection during the night, and invoking his blessings on the labors of the day, they have a right to place them under the charge of the teacher for that purpose. But neither they nor the teacher have any authority to compel the children of other parents, who object to the practice from dislike of the individual or his creed, or from any other cause, to unite in such prayers.

"And on the other hand, the latter have no right to obstruct the former in the discharge of what they deem a sacred duty. Both parties have rights; and it is only by a mutual and reciprocal regard by each of the rights of the other, that peace can be maintained, or a school flourish. The teacher may assemble in his school room before nine o'clock, the children of those parents who desire him to conduct religious exercises for them; and the children of those who object to the practice, will be allowed to retire or absent themselves from the room. If they persist in remaining there, they must conduct with the decorum and propriety becoming the occasion. If they do not so conduct, they may be dealt with as intruders."

In the same state, it was held by Gen. John A. Dix, an eminent statesman and jurist, that "the teacher of a school may open it with prayer, provided he does not encroach on the hours allotted for instruction, and provided the attendance of the scholars is not exacted as a matter of school discipline."

In a case which came before Henry S. Randall, superintendent, and which set forth that in a certain common school "the religion and faith of Catholic children were interfered with by their being compelled to 'join in prayers,' and 'to read and commit' portions of a version of the Bible of which the Catholic church disapproves," he said: "In theory, I have never been able to doubt that intellectual and religious instruction should go hand in hand. To divorce them entirely, and to bestow attention on the former only, is to draw forth and add to the powers of the mind, without giving any moral helm to guide it; in other words, it is to increase the capacity without diminishing the propensity to do evil. To banish religious education from the schools is, in a multitude of instances, to consign it to the care of the vicious, the ignorant, the careless, or those who feel that they have no time to attend to it. The placing of it in its natural connection with intellectual education in the school room, has met, however, in our country, with serious practical obstacles.

"The government, not relying on the ability or willingness of every part of the state to maintain efficient schools for the education of the young, by voluntary contributions, and recognizing the imperative necessity of universal education for the maintenance of our civil and political institutions, organized a general common school system, and made provisions to aid those sending to school, in sustaining it by the payment of a large sum annually from the treasury. To prevent this money from being misapplied, it prescribed the conditions on which it shall be received and expended; and it created a special state officer, with administrative and judicial powers, to carry out and enforce the system. The common schools were thus clearly made a government institution. To introduce into them, or permit to be introduced into them, a course of religious instruction conformable to the views of any religious denomination, would be tantamount to the adoption of a government religion—a step contrary to the constitution, and equally at variance with the policy of a free government and the wishes of the people. To form for the schools a course of instruction which could bear the name of a religious one, and which would meet the views of all, was manifestly impossible. To give every sect a pro rata share of the school moneys to enable it to support its own schools, and teach its own system of religious faith in them, would be to divide into a dozen or more schools the children within the territory convenient for attendance on a single school, and in which the support of all the inhabitants is frequently scarcely adequate, with the aid of the public moneys, to sustain a single efficient school. Indeed, under this arrangement, a single indigent family would often be required to support its own school, to go without any, or to violate its conscience by joining with others in one in which a religious system was taught wholly at variance with its own. There are other reasons which have gone to convince the public mind of the impracticability of carrying out such a plan so as to attain the object sought—the education of all the people—which do not require enumeration.

"In view of the above facts, the position was early, distinctly, and almost universally taken by our statesmen, legislators and prominent friends of education—men of the warmest religious zeal, and belonging to every religious sect—that the instruction in our public schools should be limited to that ordinarily included under the head of intellectual culture, and to the inculcation of those general principles of morality in which all sects, and good men belonging to no sect, can equally agree.

"We have seen that even prayer—that morning and evening duty which man owes to his Creator—which even the pagan and savage do not withhold from the gods of their blinded devotion—which, conducted in any proper spirit, is no more sectarian than that homage which constantly goes up from all nature, animate and inanimate, to the bountiful Giver of all things—has been decided by two eminent jurists as inadmissible as a school exercise within school hours, when seriously and conscientiously objected to by any portion of the inhabitants of a school district.

"This decision has been acquiesced in without a murmur, by the whole religious public. The intelligent religious public have felt that there was no middle tenable ground between religious instruction—strictly so called—in our common schools, and the broadest toleration.

"Compelled by circumstances to adopt the latter position, they have embraced it in its most comprehensive import, and have nerved themselves to the task of supplying a lamentable omission in the public schools, by increased assiduity to the spiritual wants of their offspring in the family circle, in the Sunday school, and in the church. In our crowded cities, where poverty sinks to its lowest ebb, and vice puts on its most unmitigated forms, where multitudes of children would receive no religious instruction from or through the instrumentality of their parents, voluntary church and individual organizations are putting forth their endeavors to supply such instruction. Many, doubtless, are not reached by these efforts; nor would they be reached if religion was taught in the common schools, for the children of the extremely poor and the vicious oftentimes could not or would not attend them."

Believing that the foregoing opinions and decisions may now be regarded as the well settled rule in the premises, and that they are founded on principles of equity, and in accordance with that spirit of entire religious toleration which characterizes our constitution and laws, and which ought to characterize every institution founded by the state, I feel no inclination to gainsay them.

Let it be distinctly understood, however, that if no objections are raised against religious exercises in school, if the exercises are of reasonable length, and if the teacher takes care to avoid the discussion of all controverted points, or sectarian dogmas, he may conduct those exercises during school hours.

QUESTION 109.—When the board of education of a township, in which the school house of a joint sub-district is situated, has made an estimate of the expenses, of every kind necessary to sustain the school in such sub-district, and the board of the adjoining township refuses or neglects to supply its share of such expenses, what is the remedy?

ANSWER.—The board of education, having the control and management of the school, may apply to the supreme or district court for a writ of mandamus, to compel the delinquent board to perform the duty which is required by section 16, of the school law.

The language of said section is too obvious to be misunderstood, and the duty enjoined too manifest to be mistaken. "And the board of the adjoining township or townships, so connected for school purposes, shall each make the proper estimates of their share of expenses, of every kind necessary to sustain said school, and certify the same to the auditor of their proper county, as part of their annual estimates for school purposes," etc.

If, however, the board having the control and management of said school, should prefer not to go to law on the subject, they may regard said neglect or refusal, on the part of the other board, as tantamount to an agreement to have said joint sub-district dissolved, and may proceed to incorporate their part of it with other sub-districts in their township, and thus avoid any further trouble on the subject.

QUESTION 110.—When the qualified voters of a sub-district fail to meet and elect a local director, at the time designated for the annual meeting, and the director whose term of office has expired, refuses "to continue in office until his successor is elected and qualified," what is to be done?

ANSWER.—Any three of the qualified voters of such sub-district, may call a special meeting of the voters of such sub-district, for the purpose of electing a director, as provided in sec. 4 of the school law; and if such special meeting be not called within a reasonable time, the township clerk may appoint a person to act as local director, until such special meeting be called and a local director be duly elected and qualified.

QUESTION 112.—Does the school law of this state confer upon colored youth the privilege of entering, as a matter of legal right, the common schools of the city, village or township in which they reside? In case the law does not allow them this privilege, how shall provision be made for their education when there are only two or three such youth in a school district?

ANSWER.—Under the general school law of this state, colored youth are not allowed to enter, as a matter of right, the schools provided for white youth. But they are entitled to a per capita share of all school funds made applicable to the payment of teachers; and it is the duty of the several boards of education to see that said share of the school funds is properly expended for the education of said colored youth, and for no other purpose.

By sec. 31 of the school law, the board of education in each township, city and incorporated village in the state, is required to establish within its respective jurisdiction, one or more schools for colored children, whenever the whole number exceeds thirty by enumeration. Whenever the number does not exceed thirty, then it is the duty of said board to reserve the money apportioned to any township, city or village on account of said colored youth, and expend the same in such manner as said board may deem most expedient and advantageous for the education of said youth.

In most of the sub-districts in which there are only two or three resident colored youth, the inhabitants have waived all legal objections to the education of said youth in the common schools of the district. And it is hoped that in no sub-district in the state, the inhabitants will be found so extremely fastidious or unphilanthropic, as to deprive a poor colored youth of all education, rather than allow him to attend the common school.

QUESTION 113.—In a certain sub-district, in the township of —, a new school house has been erected, but so situated that, by reason of swamps, and the want of passable roads, it can not be reached by a large number of scholars resident in said sub-district. The local directors refuse to establish two schools therein, and hence several of the inhabitants are obliged to maintain a private school, or let their children go without education, and this, too, notwithstanding they pay taxes for the support of schools. What is the remedy for such evident injustice to a portion of the people of this sub-district?

ANSWER.—By section 63 of the general school act, it is declared that, all the real and personal property in the state shall be taxed, for the purpose of “affording the advantages of free education to all the youth of this state.” Hence, every inhabitant may reasonably demand of the board of education, in the township in which he resides, the establishment of a school within such a distance of his residence, and with such facilities for reaching it, as would enable his children to attend it, without traveling an unreasonable distance, or over impassable roads, or through swamps.

Until such roads are rendered passable, and the swamps drained or bridged, the inhabitants who are incommoded, as already stated, should apply to the township board for permission to send their children to the schools in other sub-districts, more accessible; and the board would be in duty, and in law, bound to grant such permission, if the facts are as stated. And, if the board should refuse, without good cause, to grant the privilege solicited, the parties feeling themselves aggrieved, could then apply to the district or supreme court for writ of mandamus, to compel the board to do its duty in this regard.

QUESTION 1 (S).—In —— township, the local directors employed a young man to teach their school. After a few weeks, it was discovered that his moral influence over his pupils was of a most pernicious character. He had, in a clandestine manner, circulated among them a vile and licentious book, which was calculated to excite the grossest passions, and lead to shameful and ruinous practices. Many of his pupils were withdrawn by their parents from the school, and the directors were requested to dismiss him from their employment. A majority of them, however, decided to continue him in charge of the school. Have the township board of education authority under our school law, to interfere in the matter, and discharge the teacher? If not, what course can be pursued, lawfully, to secure the dismissal of the teacher?

ANSWER.—It is deeply to be regretted that instances like this should arise under the operation of our school system. The object of our schools is the improvement of those who attend them. Such improvement will not be secured under the instructions of ignorant or immoral teachers. The greatest possible defect in the qualifications of those to whom the instruction of our children is committed, is the want of high-toned morality. Nowhere else are evil principles and vicious habits more destructive in their operations than in the teacher. A noble, honorable and pure spirit is an indispensable requisite in all whose work it is to mould the characters and shape the destinies of the young. That such a teacher as he in regard to whom complaint is made, should be removed from his office without unnecessary delay, all considerate persons must admit. The question is, how shall this removal be effected? It is thought by some that the board of education have authority, when, in their estimation, the interests of schools require it, to interfere in such matters, and overrule the decisions of the local directors. If they have this right, it is wholly inferential; for it is not explicitly conferred by the school law. In section 6 of this law, it is declared that "It shall be the duty of the school directors, in each sub-district, to take the management and control of its local interests and affairs, to employ teachers, * * and to dismiss any teacher, at any time, for such reasons as they may deem sufficient." The right of appeal from their decision in such cases is nowhere expressly given. In the opinion of the undersigned, the action of the local directors in such cases should be considered decisive and final. Otherwise numerous and unfortunate collisions will arise between the local directors and the board of education.

Section 45 of the general school law, provides an appropriate and sufficient remedy for all such cases. Its language is, "If, at any time, the recipient of the certificate shall be found incompetent or negligent, the examiners, or any two of them, may revoke the same, and require such teacher to be dismissed."

If, upon due examination, the examiners find that the teacher has been guilty of immoral practices, it is their imperative duty to revoke his certificate, inasmuch as the law makes a "good moral character" a requisite to obtaining such certificate.

QUESTION 2 (S).—Can a board of education, under the restriction of the last legislature, levy a tax, general or special, for building purposes, etc., which will amount in the aggregate to more than two mills on the dollar, without submitting the subject to a vote of the people? The effect of the law seems to make this restriction, whether designed or not. And such restriction is certainly needed, on account of the abuses practiced under the authority of the 23d section. The special assessments are becoming the rule, and the township levy the exception. This practice not only imposes heavy and perplexing duties upon the auditors, but is also the source of constant jealousy and strife among township officers. A sub-district levy for building purposes, usually runs from eight to fifteen mills on the dollar; and the above restriction would virtually do away with such levies, as the amount produced would be insufficient to accomplish the objects desired.

ANSWER.—Numerous inquiries have been addressed to this department, relative to the effect upon the 23d section of the recent amendments of the 22d section of the general school law. Many entertain the opinion expressed in the above inquiry, which comes from the auditor of Meigs county. Others claim that section 23 is in no manner modified by the amendments above named. They contend that inasmuch as this section was neither amended nor repealed, it still gives boards of education authority to levy, without restriction, taxes upon sub-districts, for building purposes.

In order to arrive at just conclusions upon this subject, a correct idea of the original purpose and design of section 23 is necessary. It formed no part of the law as first drafted and presented to the legislature. The purpose and spirit of the law were to impose township taxes for all school purposes, whatever. To this plan some members objected; and as a compromise of conflicting opinions, section 23 was added. This section was never designed to originate power with the boards of education to assess taxes additional to those named in section 22. It is in its character supplemental to that section, defining how, under given circumstances, the taxes named in said section 22 shall be levied. Whatever amendments, therefore go to restrict or limit the power of taxation conferred by section 22, pass, by necessity, to the following section.

Among the amendments to the school law, passed April 17, 1857, is a modification of section 22, which limits taxation for all school purposes, other than the payment of teachers, to two mills on the dollar, of the taxable property of the township; excepting in cases where a vote of the township shall decide that a greater tax is necessary. As section 23 is, virtually, part and parcel of section 22, no greater tax than two mills on the dollar can be levied upon any sub-district for building purposes, except when the people of the township shall, by vote, order otherwise.

If the effect of this opinion shall be a practical repeal of section 23, it will be, in the opinion of the undersigned, no cause for regret; as said section has been a constant source of difficulty between various school authorities, and of injury to the cause of education throughout the state.

QUESTION 3 (S).—Is it possible, under the school laws of the state, for township boards so to distribute the school funds as to give the small districts an equal number of months of school with the larger ones? There are several sub-districts in this (Pike) county, which pay heavy taxes, but enumerate few youth. They do not receive funds sufficient to sustain schools half as long as do the more populous adjoining districts, which pay much less for the support of schools. Must the board, in all cases, distribute funds according to the enumeration?

ANSWER.—Section 24 of the school law, as enacted in 1853, was explicit in requiring that the disposition of funds, applicable to the payment of teachers, should be in proportion to the youth enumerated. Its language was, "all school funds, made applicable to the payment of teachers only, shall be distributed to the several sub-districts, and fractional parts thereof, in the township in proportion to the enumeration of scholars, with the exception of so much of the township tax as may have been levied and reserved by the board for sustaining teachers in the central or high schools, and such school funds as arise from the sale or rents of section sixteen, or other lands in lieu thereof, shall be distributed to the localities to which such funds belong."

This rule worked great injustice and inconvenience in many townships in all parts of the state. In some sub-districts, large sums of money were accumulated from surplus funds, over and above what was required to maintain their schools seven months in the year. In others, the amount received was not sufficient to maintain the schools for half that time. This arose from the inequality of the sub-districts in respect to the number of youth which they included.

But this evil was entirely removed by the amendment of this section, passed April 17, 1857. The township tax, which shall be levied for the continuation of schools after the state fund has been exhausted, may be distributed according to the necessities of the several sub-districts. That is, "those sub-districts which contain comparatively a small number of resident youth of school age, and which, owing to sparseness of population, and other unavoidable obstacles, can not be enlarged without serious inconvenience to the inhabitants," may receive a greater share of the school fund than they could draw on the ground of enumeration.

Let it be understood that the moneys derived from the state levy of one and one-half mills on the dollar valuation, are still to be distributed to the several sub-districts, in proportion to the enumeration of scholars. The distribution of funds raised by the township tax for the continuation of schools after the state fund has been exhausted, are, alone, subject to the discretion of the township board of education.

QUESTION 4 (S).—Can a sub-district, which has a surplus of money applicable to the payment of teachers, be made to divide with smaller sub-districts in which there is a deficiency?

ANSWER.—Inasmuch as section 24, of the general school law, prior to its amendment, March 17, 1857, required that all funds such as are contemplated in the question, "shall be distributed to the several sub-districts, and fractional parts thereof, in the township, in proportion to the enumeration of scholars," and as the operation of this rule has in numerous instances, induced in townships the condition which the question implies, it is evident that the interests of education demand a refunding of surplus moneys, that the same may be applied to relieve the necessities of such sub-districts as are deficient in funds. But I know of no law which would "compel" the refunding of moneys received according to the explicit provisions of law. There is, however, a remedy, which township boards of education can apply in all such cases of injustice and inconvenience. By the amendment alluded to, boards have authority to distribute the funds raised by townships for prolonging schools after the state fund has been exhausted, according to the necessities of the several sub-districts. If, therefore, a given sub-district has a surplus on hand, the board may take that fact into account, and at their next distribution make such a division of funds as would equalize the resources of all the sub-districts.

It is true that this remedy is prospective in its operation. It does not furnish immediate relief to the smaller sub-districts. Still, it assures them of relief at the earliest period consistent with the provisions of law.

QUESTION 5 (S).—Does the school law require that the superintendent of the schools in a city or village, be examined, and receive a certificate of qualifications to teach, in order to draw his pay from public funds?

ANSWER.—No such office as that named in the question, is known to any existing school law of the state. Section 13 of the general school law, gives the township board authority to appoint one of their own number the acting manager of schools for the township. But this is not such an office, precisely, as that named in the inquiry.

That the character of this office may be understood, we must consider its accustomed duties. What, then, are the appropriate labors of a superintendent of the schools of a village or city?

In our larger towns, the superintendent devotes all his time to the general oversight and management of the schools. He recommends to the board of education suitable persons to be employed as teachers. He frequently visits the several schools, and advises or directs the teachers in regard to their duties. He calls meetings of the teachers, and gives them instruction in regard to teaching and discipline. He examines classes, and promotes pupils from grade to grade, according to their proficiency. He takes oversight of the buildings and other school property. In the smaller towns, he acts not only as a general superintendent of the schools, but also as teacher in some one of the departments; devoting, perhaps, one-half his time to each of these branches of labor. In any case, his duties are just what the board, his employers, may please to make them. No state law creates his office, or defines his duties. In all things, he is subject to the will of the power that gives him his position.

It needs no argument to prove that he is, virtually, the principal of the schools; that is, the head teacher, or the foreman of the teachers, and as such teacher, it is manifestly proper that he should receive from the proper source a certificate of qualifications. He receives his salary from the same fund, and in the same manner that other teachers do. And as the law positively forbids the disbursement of this fund to any excepting teachers holding the proper certificate of qualifications, it is plain that the question should receive an affirmative answer.

QUESTION 6 (S).—If directors furnish a teacher with a set of written rules, and he gains the disapprobation of some parents by trying to carry them into effect, have the directors power to close the school before the term expires? Or, if a teacher is discharged while he is complying with the reasonable requirements of the directors, can he not recover pay for the full term, according to the article of agreement?

ANSWER.—Inquiries similar to the above, are frequently received at this office. Section 6 of the general school law, makes it the duty of the school directors “to employ teachers, * * * and to dismiss any teacher at any time, for such reasons as they may deem sufficient.”

Section 11, of “an act to amend, and supplementary to an act entitled ‘an act to provide for the reorganization, supervision and maintenance of common schools,’ passed March 4, 1853,” dated April 17, 1857, provides that “If the directors of any sub-district dismiss any teacher for any frivolous or insufficient reason, such teacher may bring suit against such sub-district, and if, on the trial of the cause, a judgment be obtained against the sub-district, the directors thereof shall certify to the clerk of the board the sum so found due, and he shall issue an order to the person entitled thereto, upon the township treasurer, to pay the same out of any money in his hands belonging to said sub-district, and applicable to the payment of teachers. In such suits, process may be served upon the clerk of the sub-district, and service upon him shall be sufficient.”

These provisions are so clear and explicit as to render explanation unnecessary. Directors have power to dismiss a teacher for such reasons as they may deem sufficient. But should the court before which the teacher should bring suit, deem these reasons “frivolous or insufficient,” such teacher can recover such an amount as the court shall judge to be just and proper. Whether this amount, in any case, shall be the same as the “pay for the full term according to the article of agreement,” will, doubtless, depend upon the facts pertaining to each litigated case.

Competent and worthy teachers are liable to be dismissed by incompetent and unworthy directors. But such cases will be exceedingly rare. The chief danger in regard to this matter is that worthless teachers will be suffered to continue in charge of schools, when both justice and mercy demand that they should be dismissed from an employment for which they are utterly unqualified. Because a teacher has obtained a certificate from a board of examiners, it does not of necessity follow that he is competent to take charge of the instruction of children and youth. In practical knowledge, tact and discretion, the directors may find him to be so deficient as to render his dismissal their imperative duty. In such a case, the teacher could not, and should not recover damages.

QUESTION 7 (S).—Some two years since, the board of examiners for _____ county, granted a certificate of qualification for teaching school to a certain young man of said county. He sustained the examination with great credit to himself, and gave satisfactory evidence of an excellent moral character. But upon trial he failed in regard to government. He could not preserve due order in the school room, and before the time for which he had been engaged had expired, he was dismissed by the directors. He subsequently engaged in another school, and although he continued till the close of his engagement, he failed to maintain order, and the school was of little or no utility to those who attended it.

A few weeks since, he applied to be examined for another certificate, which the board refused to grant, on the ground of his repeated failures in governing his pupils. Are the examiners justifiable for this refusal?

ANSWER.—Most certainly they are. Scholarship and moral character are not the only requisites required of teachers. No qualifications are of higher importance than the ability to maintain due order in the school room.

Some young teachers may fail for one term in governing a school, but after that experience, achieve satisfactory success as disciplinarians. For a single failure of this kind, they should not be rejected. But when it becomes a settled point that candidates are particularly deficient in the matter of government, they should be rejected by the board.

Examiners need exercise discretion in deciding such cases.

QUESTION 8 (S).—Can a woman be a legal examiner of teachers, under the several school laws now in force in Ohio? If so, is it proper and expedient that they should be appointed to this office?

ANSWER.—The answer to the former of the above inquiries, must depend upon the phraseology of the laws which create the office of examiner. Section 44 of the general school law makes it "the duty of the probate judge, in the several counties of this state, as soon after the election of school officers under the provisions of this act as practicable, to appoint a county board of school examiners, to consist of three competent persons, resident in the county," etc. Under this law, it is manifest that a woman is competent, legally, to hold the office of examiner. She is a "person," and may be "a resident in the county."

Section 9 of the Akron school law makes it the duty of the town council "to appoint three competent persons, to serve as school examiners of said town, all of whom shall be citizens of Akron," etc. Section 13 of the "general act for schools in cities and towns," says the "board of education, within twenty days after their election, shall appoint three competent persons, citizens of said district, to serve as school examiners of the public schools therein," etc.

These last two laws require that the examiners shall be "citizens." It may be that the legislatures which enacted these laws, intended to require only that the examiners should be residents, etc. Still, the language of the law must govern in the case, unless the courts shall decide otherwise. A woman is not, legally, a "citizen;" for this term implies, in law, much more than mere residence. It implies the rights of elective franchise, which have not yet been accorded to woman.

In regard to this point, it is proper to remark that I have consulted the highest legal authority in the state, and have conformed my opinion to the advice thence derived.

In regard to the second inquiry, whether it is expedient that women should hold the office under consideration, it is my opinion that circumstances should receive due regard, in determining the answer. If men who are every way qualified for the office, will accept the position, there are strong reasons why they, rather than women, should receive appointment. Under the general school law, the only one under which women are legally competent, the examiners are county officers; and it frequently becomes necessary that they travel from ten to twenty miles, for the purpose of holding examinations. When a large number of candidates are examined, severe and tiresome labor must be performed. Many women are physically incompetent for such fatiguing service. It sometimes happens that ignorant and coarse men, who, upon examination, are refused certificates, become denunciatory and brutal in their language; threatening vengeance upon the examiners. It would be improper, not to say cruel, to subject women to such indignities.

But whenever men of suitable qualifications will not accept this office, it is far better that women, if qualified, should receive the appointment, than that it should be given to incompetent men.

NOTE.—It did not occur to me in writing the above opinion, that the question is settled by the constitution of the state. Art. XV., sec. 4, declares that "no person shall be elected or appointed to any office in this state unless he possess the qualifications of an elector."

QUESTION 9 (S).—A short time since, the probate judge of — county, for reasons satisfactory to himself, saw proper to remove one of the school examiners of this county, and appointed me in his stead. The removed officer refuses to yield his seat, alleging that the probate judge has no lawful authority vested in him, giving him the power to remove a school examiner. I would then propose the query, whether the probate judge has the authority to remove a school examiner for any reason, or not? and if not, to what authority or court are they amenable for their conduct? And should they fail to discharge faithfully and impartially the responsible duties devolving upon them, or should be guilty of conducting themselves in an unbecoming manner, what course must be pursued?

ANSWER.—The school law makes it the duty of the judges of probate to appoint school examiners for their respective counties; but it does not confer upon them the power of removal from office. Power to appoint does not carry with it the power to remove. It is my opinion that there is no law for the removal, or impeachment, of school examiners.

This fact should induce probate judges to exercise great discretion and carefulness, in their appointments to this office. By this course they may avoid the necessity for removals.

In the opinion of the undersigned, it is not desirable, that probate judges should have power to remove examiners; as they would often be importuned to make removals for insufficient reasons. For example, any one who should become dissatisfied with the doings of the examiners, could get up petitions for their removal. Should the examiners be thorough and faithful in their examinations, and refuse certificates to the incompetent, they would, in many instances, be rewarded with malicious persecution. It is better that an unworthy examiner should be retained in the board, for his brief official term, than that the door should be opened to the ingress of interminable difficulties.

QUESTION 10 (S).—The local directors of one of the sub-districts in — county, employed a teacher some time in December last, to teach for them, who had not at the time a certificate. He closed his school in February last, and at our regular monthly meeting in April he applied and obtained a certificate, dated upon the day of examination. The clerk of the township refuses to grant an order on the certificate. Suit is threatened if he grants it, by one party, and by the other if he withholds it. They appeal to the board of examiners to relieve them by dating the certificate back to cover the time in which he taught.

Question.—What is the respective duty of the several officers, from the local directors up to the board of examiners, in this special case? Would we be justifiable in dating his certificate so as to include the time, or would the clerk be justified in granting an order on the certificate obtained some three months after the close of the school?

ANSWER.—Sec. 45 of the school law plainly and positively forbids the employment of a teacher who is not, at the time of his employment, in possession of a certificate of qualifications for teaching, obtained from the board of examiners for the county in which he is to teach. Seldom or never should this prohibition be disregarded; for it is not safe to take it for granted that a teacher who is not in the possession of a certificate of qualifications, will be able to obtain such certificate. Should such a teacher ultimately fail of obtaining a certificate, under no circumstances should the public school funds be appropriated to the payment of services rendered; but the directors would, in their individual character, be liable for such payment.

In some instances which have come to the knowledge of the undersigned, directors have sought to prevent or avoid such liability, by an agreement with the teacher that he should assume the responsibility of obtaining a certificate; and that if he fails to obtain it, he shall receive no pay for the services which he may render. Such a proviso may exempt the directors from pecuniary liability; but it does not, necessarily, protect the people of the sub-district against the danger of a worthless school; and directors would find it difficult to justify such trifling with the high interests which they are set to guard.

It is my opinion that township clerks should never draw orders for the payment of teachers for time not covered by their certificates. This is the only safe rule by which they can be governed in this matter.

Should an instance arise, when it should become absolutely and unavoidably necessary that a teacher commence school prior to obtaining a certificate, and then at the first subsequent meeting of the board of examiners obtain a certificate, it is my opinion that said board may ante-date the same so as to cover the time during which he has taught. But no such dating-back should be granted him in case he had neglected to use due diligence to possess himself of a certificate at an earlier period.

For obvious reasons, it is far better that the necessary discretion in this matter should be exercised by the board of examiners, than by the township clerk.

QUESTION 11 (S).—A teacher was employed for the term of three months, and was to receive $20 per month for his services. At the time of his engagement he had obtained no certificate from the board of examiners; and he taught six weeks before applying for examination. He then obtained a certificate for one year. The local directors certified to the township clerk that there was due the teacher $60, for three months' services. But inasmuch as his certificate of qualifications covered but half of this time, the clerk declined to draw an order for more than half the amount; that is, $30. Such an order the teacher refused to receive; and reported the case back to the local directors. The directors then certified to the clerk that the teacher had taught one month and a half, at $40 a month; and that there was due him $60. But the clerk, believing that this was a mere trick for evading the force of a just law, still refused to draw the order for the full amount.

Questions.—Was the action of the directors and teacher in this matter legal and justifiable? and had the township clerk any just right to go back of the certificate of the directors, and refuse to draw an order for the full amount?

ANSWER.—In respect to the propriety and honesty of the course pursued by the directors and teacher in this case, my opinion coincides entirely with that entertained and expressed upon the subject by the township clerk. But in addition to this estimation of the case, there are serious legal objections thereto. Section 24 of the school law enjoins the duty of keeping up schools in all the sub-districts for at least six months in each year. If boards of education report but half the time during which schools have been sustained, they represent themselves as violating the law which requires twice the amount of time which is given in their reports.

As to the second inquiry, I must give it as my opinion that the course pursued by the township clerk was justifiable and worthy of praise. In all ordinary cases, and in the absence of all evidence of illegality in the proceedings of the local directors in such matters, it is no part of the duty of the clerk to go back of the certificate of the directors, and inquire into the propriety of their official acts. In such cases his duties are simply executive, and not judicial. But when he is in possession of the fullest testimony that he is required to aid and abet in the perpetration of a fraud, to assist in obtaining public funds under false pretenses, it clearly becomes his duty to decline such participation.

It is the design of the law that directors, clerks, treasurers, and auditors shall act as checks upon each other; otherwise the school funds might pass directly from the pockets of the tax-payers into the hands of the local directors. But all experience has shown the necessity of appropriate checks and guards, to prevent the perversion and squandering of public funds.

QUESTION 12 (S.)—The board of school examiners for — county hold their meetings on Saturday of every week. Each session continues upon an average not to exceed three hours. Each member of the board receives for such services the legal fee of one dollar and fifty cents for each day thus employed. In addition to this, the clerk of the board makes a charge of five dollars per quarter for recording proceedings.

Question.—Have the clerks of boards of examiners a legal right to receive pay for clerical services, additional to that received as members of the boards of examiners?

ANSWER.—When the meetings held for examination are so largely attended as to require the whole day for the simple work of examination, leaving the clerk no time to make out certificates and record proceedings, rendering it necessary that this work should be performed on another day, it is just and proper that he receive pay for the same, at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents a day. But such cases will seldom or never occur where the meetings of the board are frequent, and when examinations are conducted on the plan of oral questions.

In all cases similar to the one stated above, extra charges by the clerk are illegal; and such accounts should never be allowed by the county auditor.

QUESTION 13 (S.)—In two of the sub-districts of — township, special taxes were levied in 1857, for the erection of school houses therein. The cost of these houses considerably exceeds the amount raised for their erection. Can this deficiency be made up by a special levy upon those sub-districts the present year?

ANSWER.—Certainly not. The amendment to the twenty-third section of the school law, passed April 12, 1858, declares “that such tax shall not be levied in any sub-district wherein the same has been heretofore levied, nor in any case shall it be assessed more than once in any sub-district.”

QUESTION 14 (S.)—What is the just and true interpretation of the amended twenty-third section of the school law, where it declares that a special tax ‘shall not be levied in any sub-district wherein the same has been heretofore levied?’ Does the intention of the word ‘heretofore,’ reach back to a period prior to the enactment of the present school law, which was passed March 14, 1853?

ANSWER.—Of course it can refer to no other taxes than those which have been levied under the authority of this twenty-third section. Under the system which prevailed previous to the enactment of the present law, every district in the state had paid taxes of this character. Any sub-district which has not paid a special tax since the present law came into force, is liable to a levy not exceeding two mills on the dollar, (unless a greater assessment shall be approved by a vote of the township,) for the cost of purchasing a school house site, and erecting or repairing a school house thereon.

QUESTION 14 (S.)—Are residents of sub-districts, composed of fractional parts of different townships, entitled to vote in the election of local directors, unless resident of that portion of such sub-district which lies within the township where the school house is located? In other words, are residents of such fractional parts of townships, where no school house is located, entitled to any vote in such election? If so, can such directors be elected from either or all the fractional parts of townships, or only from the one in which the school house is located? If from any or all, the clerk being selected from the number, should he chance to be a resident of a fraction where the house is not situated, will he be a representative in the board of the township in which he resides, or in that of the township where the school house is located?

ANSWER.—The first of the above inquiries I answer, without hesitation, in the affirmative. Sec. 2 of the school law provides that residents within sub-districts who have the qualifications of voters at the state and county elections, shall be entitled to vote in the election of local directors. The fact that a sub-district may be composed of fractional parts of different townships does not, in the opinion of the undersigned, alter the case in the least. Sec. 16, which authorizes the establishment of joint sub-districts, gives no intimation that any portion of the electors resident within such sub-districts are to be disfranchised, so far as having a voice in the selection of local directors is concerned.

The second point of inquiry I answer by expressing the opinion that local directors for joint sub-districts can be chosen from any parts of such sub-districts. The right to vote under the school laws of the state, carries with it the right to hold office under such laws.

The last point of inquiry is not so easily answered. Should the local directors choose their clerk from a part of the sub-district which is not included within the township in which the school house is situated, and said clerk thereby become a member of the board of education for a township of which he is not a resident, it might be objected that it involved a conflict of legal and municipal principles. But in reply to such objection it is sufficient to state, that every part of a joint sub-district becomes, for school purposes, a part of that township in which the school house is situated; so far, at least, as the matter under consideration is concerned. It is, therefore, legal and proper that the clerk of a joint sub-district should become a member of the board of education, without regard to the fact of his residence in one or another of the fractional parts of townships which compose the joint sub-district.

QUESTION 15 (S.)—By the township levy for 1857, for the purpose of prolonging the schools in the several sub-districts after the state funds were exhausted, there was raised the sum of $471.69, which was to be distributed between 360 scholars, which on the 19th of April last, was divided as follows, showing the number of scholars, the amount of state funds, the amount of township funds, and the total amount to each sub-district:

No. of sub-district.	No. of scholars.	Amount of State Funds.	Amount of T'p Funds	Total am't to each sub-dist.
1.....	90	$142 80	$65 63	$208 63
2.....	93	145 93	62 65	208 63
3	61	96 82	111 18	208 63
4.....	62	98 41	110 22	208 63
5.....	55	87 25	121 38	208 63

The question which the board wish you to answer is this: Is the above distribution in accordance with the spirit of the law, or should they have provided a six months' school for the smaller sub-districts, and have left the remainder to be appropriated to those larger sub-districts, so as to have extended the schools to a longer period than six months? There seem to be some doubts in the minds of some of the members of the board as to the propriety of such a distribution of the township funds.

ANSWER.—It is my opinion that the distribution of school funds by your board of education was in accordance with the spirit of the law, as expressed in the amended twenty-fourth section. It certainly was just and proper, provided the sub-districts required teachers of equal qualifications. As a general fact, a school containing thirty pupils, needs as good a teacher as one which contains a greater number. Still, in some instances it is necessary to employ a more expensive teacher for the larger school. The work to be done requires more activity, energy, tact and physical endurance; and it is entirely proper and just that such a teacher should receive a higher compensation than one in a school which does not demand these qualifications to so great an extent.

After providing amply for a school of at least six months in each sub-district, it is my opinion that it is entirely proper that any balance of funds applicable to the payment of teachers which may remain on hand may be appropriated at the discretion of the board.

Permit me to express my gratification that your board are disposed to deal so liberally with the less populous sub-districts. It is a cause for regret that the same spirit does not prevail in all the townships of the state.

QUESTION 16 (S).—Our board of education are at loss to know how they shall raise funds to keep up a school the length of time required by law, when the directors have paid exorbitant prices for teaching, and expended all of the public funds in three or four months.

Can they authorize a special tax on such sub-district, or must the funds be furnished by a tax upon the township.

ANSWER.—No tax can legally be levied upon a sub-district for the purpose of paying teachers' wages. It is the duty of the board of education annually to estimate the amount of funds necessary for the purpose of prolonging, after the state funds have been exhausted, the terms of the several sub-districts or primary schools in the township, and certify the amount to the auditor of the county. This assessment cannot exceed two mills on the dollar; and it must be levied upon all the taxable property of the township. The money thus raised, together with that derived from the state funds, will prove amply sufficient for sustaining the schools of the township at least six months in the year. See school law, section 22.

If the local directors in any sub-district are disposed to pay "exorbitant prices for teaching," and thus endanger the prospect of their ability to sustain a school for six months, it is my opinion that the general supervisory powers with which the law invests boards of education, are such as to authorize said boards to establish rules limiting the amount which the local directors may agree to pay teachers.

QUESTION 17 (S).—The twenty-sixth section of the school law makes it the duty of the township board of education, "to make settlement with the township treasurer at their regular session in April annually." And section 29 requires treasurers "annually between the first and twentieth of February, to settle with the county auditor, and account to him for all moneys received, from whom and on what account, and the amount paid out for school purposes in his township." Some treasurers think that they should not make settlement with the auditor for school money not applicable to the payment of teachers, and only settle for the teachers' fund and the fund other than for the payment of teachers, settle for with the board of education.

The question I wish answered is, what funds should they settle for with the auditor, and what with the board of education? If they are required to settle for all moneys with the auditor, then what is left for them to settle with the board of education?

ANSWER.—The township treasurer must “settle with the county auditor and account to him for all moneys received, from whom and on what account, and the amount paid out for school purposes in his township.” I know of no language by which the requirement that the treasurer settle with the auditor for “all moneys received,” could be made more clear and explicit.

In regard to the second point of inquiry, I give it as my opinion that there is no impropriety in requiring the township treasurer to settle with the board of education for the receipt and disbursement of the same moneys in regard to which he is required to settle with the auditor. A new board of education, or an old one reorganized, comes into power at the time when this settlement is required to be made; and there certainly is propriety in the requirement that they should be made acquainted with the amount and condition of funds subject to their order.

QUESTION 18 (S).—Does the school law make provision for the payment of services rendered in preparing the various reports which it requires?

ANSWER.—Section forty-one provides that the county commissioners of each county in this state, shall make the same allowance to the county auditor out of their respective county treasuries, for services performed and expenses incurred under this act, as is allowed for other services of like nature.

It is, therefore, obvious that there is no ground for complaint on the part of the auditors.

The township boards of education are, by section 25, authorized to impose the duty of reporting to the auditors upon their clerk, or upon the acting manager of schools for the township. Should they appoint, for this purpose, the acting manager of schools, they may, according to section 13, “allow him a reasonable compensation for his services.” Should they appoint the township clerk to prepare and forward the required report he could claim and receive payment for this labor as well as for other clerical services rendered. In reply to the inquiries whether township clerks are entitled to remuneration for their services as members of the township boards of education, or for making and transmitting to county auditors abstracts of the enumeration returned to them, or for taking the enumeration in case the directors in any sub-district fail to take and return the same, or for filling vacancies in the boards of local directors or for drawing in favor of teachers, or for acting as clerk at meetings relative to central or high schools, or for prosecuting township treasurers on their bonds, or for reporting to the state commissioner when required to do so? If so, from whom and from what funds? The following answer was given by the late commissioner, Hon. H. H. Barney:

"The rule on this subject is understood to be that township or county officers neither salaried nor created by the school law, but upon whom it imposes certain new duties, are entitled to the same allowance out of their respective county or township treasuries, for services performed and expenses incurred under the school law, as is allowed them for other services of like nature, rendered in their official capacity."

In most instances the township clerk is also the acting manager of schools. In either case ample provision is made for payment of services rendered in preparing and forwarding reports to the county auditor.

The reports which teachers are required to make demand no other remuneration than that which is received in their stipulated salaries.

The only remaining officers, upon whom reports are dependent are the directors of sub-districts. They are required annually to take, or cause to be taken, an enumeration of all the unmarried white and colored youth between the ages of five and twenty-one years, resident within such sub-district, and return the same to the township clerk. When it is considered that there are in each sub-district three directors, and an average of about sixty youth subject to enumeration, the annual duty thus imposed can not be deemed as seriously onerous.

Although no provision is made for paying school officers for the discharge of ordinary duties, yet it must be apparent to all that ample remuneration is provided for preparing and forwarding the several reports for which our school law makes demand; with the simple exception of the enumeration in sub-districts. It is difficult to understand why such general and earnest complaint should have been made against our school system on this account. I am inclined to the opinion that the provisions of the law relating to this matter have not been fully understood.

QUESTION 19 (S).—What penalties does the school law impose for neglecting to make the reports which it requires; and have these penalties been exacted in practice under the law?

ANSWER.—In case the directors in any sub-district shall fail to take and return the enumeration required, the expense of taking the same may be recovered from them in a civil action, before any court having jurisdiction in such matters. If school teachers neglect to make the reports required of them, they forfeit the full amount of their salaries. If boards of education and auditors fail to make the proper returns, their townships and counties can not lawfully share any portion of the state school funds; but those officers are held responsible for the amounts which would have been apportioned to their respective townships and counties had the proper reports been rendered. (See secs. 8, 18 and 42). Section 40 declares that "in case the county auditor shall fail from any cause, to make return of the abstract as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to deduct for every such failure from the annual salary or allowance made to the auditor for his services, the sum of fifty dollars."

The law is decided and emphatic in forbidding that funds be apportioned to such townships and counties as fail to make the reports required. Section 37 declares "the county auditors shall annually, and immediately after their annual settlement with the county treasurer, apportion the school funds for their respective counties according to the enumeration and returns in their respective offices; and no township or other district, city, or village, which shall have failed to make and return such enumeration, shall be entitled to receive any portion of the common school funds."

Section 67 is equally explicit in regard to this particular. It provides that no order shall be drawn by the county auditor upon the county treasurer, in favor of any board of education, "unless the local treasurer, clerk, recorder or secretary of such board, or other school officer, shall first deposit with said auditor, annually, an abstract of the enumeration of scholars and other statistics relative to the schools under their charge, as required by this act, of teachers, local directors, and boards of education in townships."

It has been deemed prudent hitherto not to enforce the above provisions; but to afford the people in all parts of the state ample time and opportunity for full acquaintance with the general principles and special details of our school system. But in the opinion of the late school commissioner, the time has come when the highest interests of education demand that for the future all townships, cities and villages, which shall fail to make the returns which the law requires, shall be excluded from a participation in the school funds. Such is also my own judgment in the case. To carry this idea of duty into strict execution, would be, on the part of county auditors, an unpleasant necessity; but whenever an individual has accepted office under any given law, it becomes his imperative duty to abide by the provisions of that law; and delicate and painful as the discharge of his official duties sometimes may be, he has no option but to execute them. And in this view of the case, I shall address all county auditors in the state in regard to this matter. Section 52 declares that the state commissioner of common schools "shall exercise such supervision over the educational funds of the state as may be necessary to secure their safety, and right application and distribution according to law. He shall have power to require of county auditors and township boards of education, or other local school officers, clerks and treasurers of townships, county treasurers and clerks, recorders and treasurers of cities and villages, copies of all reports by them required to be made; and all such information in relation to the funds and condition of schools, and the management thereof, as he may deem important."

Norm.—It is due to all parties interested in the foregoing work, to state that the copy was placed in the hands of the State Printer on the seventh day of June last. It was then thought that the volume would be ready for distribution before the close of July. But all other work has been given precedence, although placed in the hands of the printer long subsequent to his reception of this.
